Using your tablet

Using the SIM card slot (only for Wi-Fi+3G models)

Certain tablets include a SIM slot for internet access. To take full advantage of your tablet's Internet capabilities, you should install a SIM card with data subscription before turning on your tablet.

See "Installing a SIM card" on page 57.

Charging your tablet

For first-time use, you need to charge your tablet for four hours. After that you can recharge the battery as needed.

Connect the DC-in jack to your tablet and plug the AC adapter into any AC outlet.

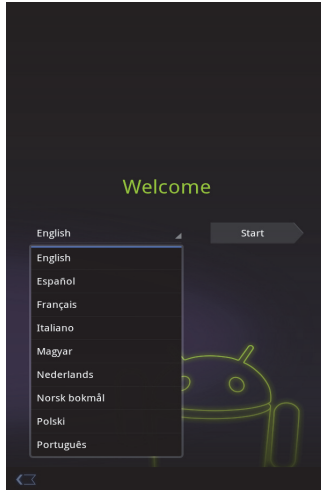

Note: It is normal for the tablet surface to become warm during charging or long periods of use.

Turning on for the first time

To turn on your tablet, press and hold the power button for two seconds. You will then be asked some questions before you can use your tablet.

To start, tap to select your language, then tap Start. Follow the rest of the instructions as they are displayed.

Sign in to or create a Google account

If you have Internet access, your tablet allows you to synchronize information with a Google account.

During the start-up process, you may create or sign in to an account, which will be used to synchronize your contact list, email, calendar and other information. If you do not yet have Internet access, or do not want to use this feature, then tap Skip.

Important: You must sign in to a Google Account to use Gmail, Google Talk, Google Calendar, and other Google Apps; to download applications from Android Market; to back up your settings to Google servers; and to take advantage of other Google services on your tablet.

If you want to restore existing settings from another device with Android 2.0 (or later) installed, you must sign in to your Google account during setup. If you wait until after setup is complete, your settings will not be restored.

Note: If you have multiple Google accounts, such as separate accounts for personal and business contacts, you can access and synchronize them from the Accounts settings section. See "Multiple Google accounts" on page 64.

Locking your tablet

If you will not use your tablet for a while, briefly press the power button to lock access. This saves power and ensures your tablet does not unintentionally use any services. Your tablet will lock automatically if it is not used after a while. To change the delay, tap Apps > Settings > Screen > Timeout.

Waking your tablet

If the screen is off and the tablet does not react to any taps on the screen, then it has been locked and is in sleep mode.

To wake your tablet, press the power button. Your tablet will display the Lock screen. Drag the lock symbol to the edge of the circle to unlock the tablet.

For additional security, you may set a code or number that must be entered to access the tablet, such as an unlock pattern (a set of dots that must be tapped in the correct order). Open the Home screen and tap Apps > Settings > Location & security > Configure lock screen.

Note: If you forget an unlock pattern or PIN, please refer to “Unlock pattern” on page 68.

Using a cellular data network (only for Wi-Fi+3G models)

'3G', or data over a cellular network, is only available on models equipped with a SIM card slot, or through a separate 3G modem (not supplied - available from your mobile Internet provider, check for compatibility).

Important: Please check the information provided by your mobile internet provider. Not all options and settings described in this section will be available, and different applications may be provided.

Installing a SIM card

Certain tablets include a SIM slot for Internet access. To take full advantage of your tablet's Internet capabilities, you should install a SIM card with data subscription before turning on your tablet.

1. Turn off the tablet by pressing and holding the power button.
2. Insert the SIM card as shown.

3. Replace the card slot cover.

Note: Ensure that the SIM card is inserted all the way into the card slot.

Caution: Turn off your tablet before installing or removing a SIM card. You may damage the card or your tablet if the power is still on.

Activating a new SIM card and PIN

If you are using a SIM card for the first time, it may require activation. Contact your network operator for details on how to do this.

When you install a SIM card for the first time, you may need to enter a PIN.

Important: Depending on your settings, you may be required to enter your PIN each time you switch on the cellular data function.

SIM card lock

Your tablet may come with a SIM card lock, i.e., you will only be able to use the SIM card provided by your network operator.

To cancel the SIM lock, contact your network provider.

Note: If you need to turn the 3G network on or off see “Putting your tablet in Airplane mode” on page 62 and “Activating or deactivating connections” on page 62.

Adjusting connection settings

Open the Application menu and tap Apps > Settings > Wireless & networks to manage your connection settings.

In addition to Wi-Fi and Bluetooth options, if your tablet includes 3G features, some additional options are available:

Item	Description
Tethering & portable hotspot	Shares your tablet’s mobile data connection via USB or as a portable Wi-Fi hotspot.
Mobile networks	Sets your options for connecting to mobile networks.
Internet sharing	Shares your mobile data connection with the connected computer.

Selecting a network

Your tablet will automatically detect your carrier/network settings when you insert a new SIM card. However, you may prefer to manually select a network. This is often a good idea when roaming.

Tip: When you are traveling, manually selecting a network may help to reduce your roaming charges. Check with your service provider for the network offering the most competitive rates at your destination.

Disable data when roaming

You can prevent your tablet from transmitting data over other carriers' mobile networks when you are traveling and leave an area that is covered by your carrier's networks. This is useful for controlling expenses if your mobile data contract doesn't include data roaming.

1. Tap Apps > Settings > Wireless & networks > Mobile networks.
2. Tap Data roaming to disable it (remove the green tick).

Limit your data connection to slower networks

If your tablet connects to 3G mobile networks, you can extend your battery life by limiting your data connections to slower, 2G networks (GPRS or EDGE). When you are connected to a 2G network, you may want to postpone activities that transmit a lot of data, such as sending, uploading, or downloading pictures or video, until you are connected to a faster mobile or other wireless network.

1. Tap Apps > Settings > Wireless & networks > Mobile networks.
2. Tap Use only 2G networks.

Creating a new access point

When you need to add another GPRS/3G/EDGE connection on your tablet, obtain the access point name and settings (including username and password if required) from your service provider.

1. Tap Apps > Settings > Wireless & networks > Mobile networks > Access Point Names.
2. Tap an existing APN, or tap New APN.

Safety

Prevention of hearing loss

Warning! Permanent hearing loss may occur if earphones or headphones are used at high volume for prolonged periods of time.

This device has been tested to comply with the Sound Pressure Level requirement laid down in the applicable EN 50332-1 and/or EN 50332-2 standards.

A pleine puissance, l'écoute prolongée du baladeur peut endommager l'oreille de l'utilisateur.

Listening precautions

To protect your hearing, follow these precautions.

- Increase the volume gradually until you can hear clearly and comfortably.
- Do not increase the volume level after your ears have adjusted.
- Do not listen to music at high volumes for extended periods.
- Do not increase the volume to block out noisy surroundings.
- Decrease the volume if you can't hear people speaking near you.

Radio Frequency Interference

Warning! For safety reasons, turn off all wireless or radio transmitting devices when using your device under the following conditions. These devices may include, but are not limited to: wireless LAN (WLAN), Bluetooth and/or 3G.

Remember to follow any special regulations in force in any area, and always switch off your device when its use is prohibited or when it may cause interference or danger. Use the device only in its normal operating positions. To successfully transmit data files or messages, this device requires a good quality connection to the network. In some cases, transmission of data files or messages may be delayed until such a connection is available. Ensure that the above separation distance instructions are followed until the transmission is completed. Parts of the device are magnetic. Metallic materials may be attracted to the device, and persons with hearing aids should not hold the device to the ear with the hearing aid. Do not place credit cards or other magnetic storage media near the device, because information stored on them may be erased.

Medical devices

Operation of any radio transmitting equipment, including wireless phones, may interfere with the functionality of inadequately protected medical devices.

Consult a physician or the manufacturer of the medical device to determine if they are adequately shielded from external RF energy or if you have any questions. Switch off your device in health care facilities when any regulations posted in these areas instruct you to do so. Hospitals or health care facilities may be using equipment that could be sensitive to external RF transmissions.

Pacemakers

Pacemaker manufacturers recommend that a minimum separation of 15.3 cm (6") be maintained between wireless devices and a pacemaker to avoid potential interference with the pacemaker. These recommendations are consistent with the independent research by and recommendations of Wireless Technology Research. Persons with pacemakers should do the following:

- Always keep the device more than 15.3 cm (6") from the pacemaker.
- Not carry the device near your pacemaker when the device is switched on. If you suspect interference, switch off your device, and move it.

Hearing aids

Some digital wireless devices may interfere with some hearing aids. If interference occurs, consult your service provider.

Vehicles

RF signals may affect improperly installed or inadequately shielded electronic systems in motor vehicles such as electronic fuel injection systems, electronic antiskid (antilock) braking systems, electronic speed control systems, and air bag systems. For more information, check with the manufacturer, or its representative, of your vehicle or any equipment that has been added. Only qualified personnel should service the device, or install the device in a vehicle. Faulty installation or service may be dangerous and may invalidate any warranty that may apply to the device. Check regularly that all wireless equipment in your vehicle is mounted and operating properly. Do not store or carry flammable liquids, gases, or explosive materials in the same compartment as the device, its parts, or enhancements. For vehicles equipped with an air bag, remember that air bags inflate with great force. Do not place objects, including installed or portable wireless equipment in the area over the air bag or in the air bag deployment area. If in-vehicle wireless equipment is improperly installed, and the air bag inflates, serious injury could result. Using your device while flying in aircraft is prohibited. Switch off your device before boarding an aircraft. The use of wireless teledevices in an aircraft may be dangerous to the operation of the aircraft, disrupt the wireless telephone network, and may be illegal.

Potentially explosive environments

Switch off your device when in any area with a potentially explosive atmosphere and obey all signs and instructions. Potentially explosive atmospheres include areas where you would normally be advised to turn off your vehicle engine. Sparks in such areas could cause an explosion or fire resulting in bodily injury or even death. Switch off the device at refueling points such as near gas pumps at service stations. Observe restrictions on the use of radio equipment in fuel depots, storage, and distribution areas; chemical plants; or where blasting operations are in progress. Areas with a potentially explosive atmospheres are often, but not always, clearly marked. They include below deck on boats, chemical transfer or storage facilities, vehicles using liquefied petroleum gas (such as propane or butane), and areas where the air contains chemicals or particles such as grain, dust or metal powders.

Follow any restrictions. Do not use the device where blasting is in progress.

Emergency calls

(only for models supporting phone function)

Important: Wireless products, including this device, operate using radio signals, wireless networks, landline networks, and user-programmed functions. Because of this, connections in all conditions cannot be guaranteed. You should never rely solely on any wireless device for essential communications like medical emergencies.

If certain features are in use, you may first need to turn those features off before you can make an emergency call. Consult this guide or your service provider for more information.

When making an emergency call, give all the necessary information as accurately as possible. Your wireless device may be the only means of communication at the scene of an accident. Do not end the call until given permission to do so.

Operation environment

Make sure that the device:

- Is away from magnetic fields or any device generating static electricity.
- Is kept at least 30 centimetres (one foot) away from a mobile phone.
- Is not in a dusty or damp environment.
- Is not used near water. Never spill liquids of any kind on or into your device.
- Cables are not strained and that there is no risk of people walking or tripping over them.
- Other devices do not crush the cables.
- Always unplug your device from the power outlet before cleaning it.
- Do not use liquid or aerosol cleaners, use a damp cloth instead.
- Never spray cleaning product directly on the screen.

- If you spill liquid on your device, switch it off immediately, unplug the AC adapter. Do not attempt to service your device yourself, as opening or removing covers may expose you to dangerous voltage or other risks. Refer all servicing to qualified service personnel.

Unplug your device from the wall outlet and refer servicing to qualified service personnel when:

- The power cord or plug is damaged, cut or frayed.
- Liquid was spilled into the product.
- The product was exposed to rain or water.
- The product has been dropped or the case has been damaged.
- The product exhibits a distinct change in performance, indicating a need for service.

Note: Adjust only those controls that are covered by the operating instructions, since improper adjustment of other controls may result in damage and will often require extensive work by a qualified technician to restore the product to normal condition.

Battery information

This product uses a Lithium-ion battery. Do not use it in a humid, wet and/or corrosive environment. Do not put, store or leave your product in or near a heat source, in a high temperature location, in strong direct sunlight, in a microwave oven or in a pressurized container, and do not expose it to temperatures over 60 °C (140 °F). Failure to follow these guidelines may cause the battery to leak acid, become hot, explode or ignite and cause injury and/or damage. Do not pierce, open or disassemble the battery. If the battery leaks and you come into contact with the leaked fluids, rinse thoroughly with water and seek medical attention immediately. For safety reasons, and to prolong the lifetime of the battery, charging will not occur at low (below 0 °C/32 °F) or high (over 40 °C/104 °F) temperatures.

The full performance of a new battery is achieved only after two or three complete charge and discharge cycles. The battery can be charged and discharged many times, but it will eventually wear out. When normal use and standby times are noticeably shorter than normal, contact your reseller. Use only manufacturer approved batteries, and recharge your battery only with manufacturer approved chargers designated for this device.

Unplug the charger from the electrical plug and the device when not in use. If left unused, a fully charged battery will lose its charge over time. If the battery is completely discharged, it may take a few minutes before the charging indicator appears on the display or before the device can be used.

Use the battery only for its intended purpose. Never use any charger or battery that is damaged.

Do not short-circuit the batteries under any condition. Accidental short-circuiting can occur when a metallic object such as a coin, clip, or pen causes direct connection of the positive (+) and negative (-) terminals of the battery.

These look like metal strips on the battery. This might happen, for example, when you carry a spare battery in your pocket or purse. Short-circuiting the terminals may damage the battery or the connecting object.

Leaving the battery or any device with embedded batteries in hot or cold places, such as in a closed car in summer or winter conditions, will reduce the capacity and lifetime of the battery. Always try to keep the battery between 15 °C and 25 °C (59 °F and 77 °F). A device with a hot or cold battery may not work temporarily, even when the battery is fully charged. Battery performance is particularly limited in temperatures well below freezing.

Do not dispose of battery or devices with embedded batteries in a fire as they may explode. Batteries may also explode if damaged. Dispose of batteries according to local regulations. Please recycle when possible. Do not dispose as household waste.

- Avoid leaving this device or battery in your car in high temperatures.
- Avoid dropping this device or battery. It can cause damage.
- Contact your service provider or reseller to have them checked if this device or battery get wet or damaged from dropping or high temperature.

Replacing the battery

Use original products for quality assurance and safeguards. If the battery cannot be removed and replaced, contact your dealer.

Warning! Use of a non-original battery or charger may present a risk of fire, explosion, leakage, or other hazard.

Warning! Batteries may explode if not handled properly. Do not disassemble or dispose of them near fire. Keep them away from children. Follow local regulations when disposing of used batteries.

IEEE1625 statement (only for Wi-Fi+3G models)

- Do not disassemble or open, crush, bend or deform, puncture, or shred.
- Do not modify or remanufacture, attempt to insert foreign objects into the battery, immerse or expose to water or other liquids, or expose to excessive heat, fire, or other hazard. Only use the battery in the system for which it was specified.
- Only use the battery with a charging system that has been qualified with the system per this standard.
- Use of an unqualified battery or charger may present a risk of fire, explosion, leakage, or other hazard.
- Do not short-circuit a battery or allow metallic or conductive objects to contact the battery terminals.
- Replace the battery only with another battery that has been qualified with the system per this standard.

- Use of an unqualified battery may present a risk of fire, explosion, leakage, or other hazard.
- Promptly dispose of used batteries in accordance with local regulations.
- Battery usage by children should be supervised.
- Avoid dropping the host or battery. If the host or battery is dropped, especially on a hard surface, and the end user suspects damage, take it to a service center for inspection.
- Improper battery use may result in a fire, explosion, leakage, or other hazard.
- Storage and operating conditions, including temperature, shall be specified.

Driving safety

Using this device while driving may cause distraction. Stop using it if you can't concentrate on driving. Input information about your destination and route prior to your drive. Do not input data or engage in text messaging while driving. Keep your eyes on the road while driving. Listen to the audible turn-by-turn directions, if available. Also, using a mobile device or accessory may be prohibited or restricted in certain areas. Always obey the laws and regulations on the use of these products.

GPS and aGPS (for certain models only)

- Your device may use Global Positioning System (GPS) signals for location-based applications. GPS uses satellites controlled by the U.S. government that are subject to changes implemented in accordance with the Department of Defense policy and the Federal Radio Navigation Plan. These changes may affect the performance of location technology on your device.
- Your device may also use Assisted Global Positioning System (aGPS), which obtains information from a cellular network to improve GPS performance. aGPS uses your wireless service provider's network and therefore airtime, data charges, and/or additional charges may apply in accordance with your service plan. Contact your wireless service provider for details.
- Devices enabled with GPS or aGPS technology transmit location-based information. This location-based information may be shared with third parties, including your wireless service provider, application providers, and other third parties providing service.

Emergency calls

- When you make an emergency call, the cellular network may activate the aGPS technology in your mobile device to tell the emergency responders your approximate location.
- aGPS has limitations and might not work in your area. Therefore:
 - Always tell the emergency responder your location to the best of your ability, and
 - Remain on the device for as long as the emergency responder instructs you.

- Get better performance by going outside and away from underground locations, covered vehicles, structures with metal or concrete roofs, tall buildings, and foliage.
- Indoor performance might improve if move closer to windows, but some windows sun shielding films can block satellite signals.
- Get better performance by moving away from radios, entertainment equipment, and other electronic devices.

Keep away from children

- Keep your device and its accessories away from small children, a choking hazard may exist for small, detachable parts.
- Improper use may cause loud sounds, possibly causing hearing injury.
- Improperly handled this device or batteries could overheat and cause a burn.

Glass parts

Some parts of your device may be made of glass. This glass could break if the product is dropped on a hard surface or receives a substantial impact. If glass breaks, do not touch or attempt to remove. Stop using your device until the glass is replaced by a qualified service center.

Seizures/Blackouts/Eyestrain

A small percentage of people may be susceptible to blackouts or seizures (even if they have never had one before) when exposed to flashing lights or light patterns such as when playing games or watching video. If you have experienced seizures or blackouts or have a family history of such occurrences, you should consult a physician before playing games or watching videos on your device. Discontinue use and consult a physician if any of the following symptoms occur: convulsion, eye or muscle twitching, loss of awareness, involuntary movements, or disorientation. It is always a good idea to hold the screen away from your eyes, leave the light on in the room, take a not-less-than-15-minute break every hour, and stop use it if you are tired.

Repetitive motion

When you repetitively perform actions such as pressing keys or entering finger-written characters, you may experience occasional discomfort in your hands, arms, shoulders, neck, or other parts of your body. If you continue to have discomfort during or after such use, stop use and see a physician.

Use of connectors and ports

Never force a connector into a port. Check for obstructions on the port. If the connector and port don't join with reasonable ease, they probably don't match. Make sure that the connector matches the port and that you have positioned the connector correctly in relation to the port.

Information from World Health Organization

Present scientific information does not indicate the need for any special precautions for the use of mobile device. If you are concerned, you may want to limit your own or your children's RF exposure by limiting the length of calls or by using handsfree devices to keep mobile devices away from your head and body.

RF exposure information (SAR)

This device meets the government's requirements for exposure to radio waves.

This device is designed and manufactured not to exceed the emission limits for exposure to radio frequency (RF) energy set by the Federal Communications Commission of the U.S. Government.

The exposure standard for wireless devices employs a unit of measurement known as the Specific Absorption Rate, or SAR. The SAR limit set by the FCC is 1.6 W/kg.

Tests for SAR are conducted using standard operating positions accepted by the FCC with the device transmitting at its highest certified power level in all tested frequency bands. Although the SAR is determined at the highest certified power level, the actual SAR level of the device while operating can be well below the maximum value. This is because the device is designed to operate at multiple power levels so as to use only the power required to reach the network. In general, the closer you are to a wireless base station antenna, the lower the power output.

Important: Body-worn measurements differ among device models, depending upon available enhancements and FCC requirements.

While there may be differences between the SAR levels of various devices and at various positions, they all meet the government requirements.

The FCC has granted an Equipment Authorization for this model device with all reported SAR levels evaluated as in compliance with the FCC RF exposure guidelines. SAR information on this model of device is on file with the FCC and can be found under the Display Grant section of www.fcc.gov/oet/ea/fccid after searching on FCC ID: HLZTMDMA100.

For body worn operation, this device has been tested and meets the FCC RF exposure guidelines for use with accessories that contain no metal and that position the device a minimum of 0 cm from the body when the device is switched on.

Certificate Information (SAR)

This device meets the EU requirements (1999/519/EC) on the limitation of exposure of the general public to electromagnetic fields by way of health protection.

The limits are part of extensive recommendations for the protection of the general public. These recommendations have been developed and checked by independent scientific organizations through regular and thorough evaluations of scientific studies. To guarantee the safety of all persons, regardless of age and health, the limits include a significant safety buffer.

Before radio devices can be put in circulation, their agreement with European laws or limits must be confirmed; only then may the CE symbol be applied.

The unit of measurement for the European Council's recommended limit for mobile devices is the "Specific Absorption Rate" (SAR). This SAR limit is 2.0 W/kg, averaged over 10 g of body tissue. It meets the requirements of the International Commission on Non-Ionizing Radiation Protection (ICNIRP). The maximum SAR value is calculated at the highest output level in all frequency bands of the mobile device.

For body worn operation, this device has been tested and meets the ICNIRP exposure guidelines and was included in the European Standard EN 62311 and EN 62209-2 for use with accessories that contain no metal and that position the device a minimum of 1.5 cm from the body when the device is switched on. Use of other accessories may not ensure compliance with ICNIRP exposure guidelines.

During use, the actual SAR level is usually much lower than the maximum value, because the mobile device works in different output levels. It only transmits with as much output as is required to reach the network. In general the following applies: The closer you are to a base station, the lower the transmission output of your mobile device.
