About FaceTime

FaceTime lets you make video calls over Wi-Fi. Use the front camera to talk face-to-face, or the back camera to share what you see around you.

To use FaceTime, you need iPad 2 and a Wi-Fi connection to the Internet. The person you call must also have a device or computer that works with FaceTime. For more information, see “FaceTime” on page 169.

Note: FaceTime may not be available in all countries or regions.

Signing In

To use FaceTime, you need an Apple ID. If you have an iTunes Store account, MobileMe account, or other Apple account, you can use that Apple ID with FaceTime. If you don't have an Apple ID, you can create one when you open FaceTime.

You don't need to sign in or out every time you use FaceTime. Once you sign in, you can start a FaceTime call right away.

Sign in to FaceTime:

- 1 Open FaceTime, enter your Apple ID and password, then tap Sign In. If you don't already have an Apple account, you can tap Create New Account and set one up now.
- 2 On the FaceTime screen, enter the email address others should use to call you in FaceTime, then tap Next. If this is the first time you've used this address for FaceTime, you may need to check for new email in that account and reply to the confirmation message from Apple. (If you've already added the account to Mail on iPad, verification is automatic.)

Now you can choose a contact and start a FaceTime call, and others can call you using the email address you provided. If you use more than one email address, you can add the others as described below.

Create a new account:

- 1 Open FaceTime and tap Create New Account.
- 2 Follow the onscreen instructions. The email address you enter will be the Apple ID for the new account.
- 3 On the FaceTime screen, enter the email address you want others to use to call you. This address doesn't need to be the same as the address you entered for your Apple ID, but it must be a working email address.
- 4 Reply to the confirmation email sent from Apple to the email address you entered in the previous step.

If you have more than one email address, you can let people call you using any of them.

Add email addresses: Choose Settings > FaceTime, then tap Add Another Email.

Sign out: You don't normally need to sign out of FaceTime—just sign in once, and open FaceTime later without being asked to sign in again. You can't receive FaceTime calls while you're signed out. But if you do need to sign out, choose Settings > FaceTime, then tap Account.

Turn off FaceTime: If you don't want to receive FaceTime calls, choose Settings > FaceTime and turn off FaceTime.

You can sync iPad with the calendars on your computer. You can also create, edit, or cancel events on iPad, and sync them back to your computer. You can subscribe to Google, Yahoo!, or iCal calendars. You can subscribe to read-only iCalendar (.ics) calendars or import .ics files from email. Unified Contacts

When you sync contacts with multiple accounts, you might have entries for the same person in more than one account. To keep redundant contacts from appearing in the All Contacts list, you can link contacts that have the same first and last name (but not a different prefix, suffix, or middle name) and display them as a single unified contact. About Maps

Maps provides classic, satellite, hybrid, and terrain views of locations in many countries. Search for a location, then get detailed driving, public transit, or walking directions, as well as traffic information.

WARNING: For important information about driving and navigating safely, see the Important Product Information Guide at support.apple.com/manuals/ipad.

To use Maps, iPad must have an Internet connection. See “Connecting to the Internet” on page 29.

Important: Maps, directions, and location-based apps provided by Apple depend on data services provided by third parties. These data services are subject to change and may not be available in all geographic areas, resulting in maps, directions, or location-based information that may be unavailable, inaccurate, or incomplete. Compare the information provided on iPad to your surroundings, and defer to posted signs to resolve any discrepancies. To provide your location, data is collected which doesn’t identify you personally. If you don’t want this data collected, don’t use the feature. Not using this feature doesn’t affect the non–location-based functionality of your iPad.

If location services is turned off when you open Maps, you may be asked to turn it on. You can use Maps without turning on location services. See “Location Services” on page 153.
