

User manual for RFMCC

This product can be used as a RF attached devices for PDA, Cell Phone etc., those PDA or Cell phone required SD connector, which can put the RFMCC inside. By software provided by PDA or Cell Phone, the RFMCC can be used as a RF controller; can add/remove RF devices like RF9501, RFTR9505-T to network, also can control RF devices by press button on software for PDA and Cell Phone.

This product's temperature rating is 0°C-30°C. Powered by 3.3VDC from PDA.

FCC Statements:

FCC ID: UH2-RFMCC

This device complies with part 15 of the FCC Rules. Operation is subject to the following two conditions: (1) This device may not cause harmful interference, and (2) this device must accept any interference received, including interference that may cause undesired operation.

FCC Caution:

Any changes or modifications not expressly approved by Cooper Wiring Devices could void the user's authority to operate the equipment.