

Clarification about Compliance Insert

The user manual information represents the ABTM3 radio within a typical final product. The Insert Sheets represents the data that will be included with all product that integrate the ABTM3 radio. OEM users will also be supplied with this information as well as information regarding requirements to verify the unintentional radiator emissions for final products that integrate the radio.

The RF exposure report from Celltech shows no RF safety concerns. A statement on the user's guide reflect the fact that the product was tested and the radio emissions comply to the RF exposure regulations.