Radio Wave Exposure and Specific Absorption Rate (SAR) Information for Model CN2B

The Model CN2B Mobile Computer has been designed to comply with applicable safety requirements for exposure to radio waves. These requirements are based on scientific guidelines that include safety margins designed to assure the safety of all persons, regardless of age and health. The radio wave exposure guidelines employ a unit of measurement known as the Specific Absorption Rate or SAR. Tests for SAR are conducted using standardized methods with the device transmitting at its highest certified power level. While there may be difference between the SAR levels of various products, they are all designed to meet the relevant guidelines for exposure to the radio waves.

This radio has been tested and meets the FCC RF exposure guidelines when used with the Intermec accessories supplied or designated for this product. Use of other accessories may not ensure compliance with the FCC RF exposure guidelines. The highest SAR value for the CN2B Mobile Computer, as tested by Compliance Certification Services, for single or collocated configuration is 0.442 W/kg.
