Precautions on the Battery Pack

Be sure to use the battery pack dedicated to the phone.

■ Battery life
  • The battery pack is a consumable. With repeating the charging, the operating time at a time is gradually reduced.
  • It is recommended to change the battery pack early when the operating time at a time is reduced to approximately half compared to the time when the is purchased since the useful life of the battery pack is reaching to the end. The battery pack may expand when it is reaching to the end of useful life depending on its usage condition, this is not a problem. The useful life of the battery pack is one year as a guide line. However, repeated charging/discharging for short time, usage in high temperature environment, or continuous long time charging condition may shorten the useful life of the battery.

For environmental protection, bring the exhausted battery to an , dealer, or recycle shop.

Li-ion

■ Do not charge for long periods of time (several days) with the phone turned on.
  • Do not leave the phone power on for long periods of time while charging. Otherwise, when charging finishes, the phone will attempt to receive power from the battery so that when you actually use the phone, you will be able to do so for just a short amount of time before the battery alarm sounds. If this happens, charge the battery correctly. When charging the battery again, first disconnect the phone from the AC adapter and then set it again.

■ Estimated usage time for battery
The usable time of the battery varies depending on the usage environment or its remaining life.

Network	Stand-by time	Continuous talk time
/ 3G	Static : about ••• hrs Dynamic : about ••• hrs	Voice call : about ••• min Video call : about •• min
GSM/GPRS	Static : about ••• hrs	Voice call : about ••• minutes

  • Continuous talk time is the estimated time when radio waves can be sent and received normally.
  • Continuous stand-by time is the estimated time you can use thephone in motion when it is closed and can receive radio waves normally. The standby time could be about half of this estimate depending on the battery level, function settings, other ambient conditions such as temperature, the status of radio waves in the area (weak or no radio waves, for instance) and the status of the network of the country in which you stay. The continuous standby time will be shorter if you don't insert the UIM. When you use i-mode communications, the talk/transmission time and standby time will be shorter. Further, even if you do not make calls or perform i-mode communication, the talk/communication time and standby time will be shorter if you compose i-mode mail, start up a downloaded i-appli.

- The continuous standby time for standstill is the average number of hours you can use the phone in standstill status when it is closed and can receive radio waves normally.
- The continuous standby time for in motion is the average number of hours you can use the phone in the combined status of "standstill", "moving" and "out of the service area" when it is closed, in an area where it can receive radio waves normally.
- The talk/communication time and standby time will also be shorter than the above-mentioned estimates when you perform data transmission or multi-access or when you use the camera.

■ Estimated time for charging battery
