- Insert power cable plug completely into wall socket otherwise if not secured completely into socket, fire ignition may break out.

- Ensure the power cord does not come into contact with hot objects such as a heater. This may cause a fire or an electric shock hazard.

- Do not place a heavy object, or the product itself, on power cables. Otherwise, this may result in fire or electric shock.

- Bend antenna cable between inside and outside building to prevent rain from flowing in. This may cause water damaged inside the Product and could give an electric shock.

- When mounting TV onto wall make sure to neatly install and isolate cabling from rear of TV as to not create possibility of electric shock /fire hazard.

- Do not plug too many electrical devices into a single multiple electrical outlet. Otherwise, this may result in fire due to over-heating.

- Do not drop the product or let it fall over when connecting external devices. Otherwise, this may result in injury or damage to the product.

The warranty does not cover the product for image sticking. Avoid displaying a fixed image on your television's screen for a prolonged period (2 or more hours for LCD, 1 or more hours for Plasma). Also, if you watch the TV at a ratio of 4:3 for a long time, image sticking may occur on the borders of the panel. This phenomenon also occurs in third-party products and is not subject to exchange or refund.

 "Cracking" noise: A cracking noise that occurs when watching or turning off the TV is generated by plastic thermal contraction due to temperature and humidity. This noise is common for products where thermal deformation is required. Electrical circuit humming/panel buzzing: A low level noise is generated from a high-speed switching circuit, which supplies a large amount of current to operate a product. It varies depending on the product. This generated sound does not affect the performance and reliability of the product.

NOTE: This equipment has been tested and found to comply with the limits for a Class B digital device, pursuant to part 15 of the FCC Rules. These limits are designed to provide reasonable protection against harmful interference in a residential installation. This equipment generates, uses and can radiate radio frequency energy and, if not installed and used in accordance with the instructions, may cause harmful interference to radio communications. However, there is no guarantee that interference will not occur in a particular installation. If this equipment does cause harmful interference to radio or television reception, which can be determined by turning the equipment off and on, the user is encouraged to try to correct the interference by one or more of the following measures:

- Reorient or relocate the receiving antenna.
- Increase the separation between the equipment and receiver.
- Connect the equipment into an outlet on a circuit different from that to which the receiver is connected.
- Consult the dealer or an experienced radio/TV technician for help.

This device complies with part 15 of the FCC rules. Operation is subject to the following two conditions:

- (1) this device may not cause harmful interference, and
- (2) this device must accept any interference received, including interference that may cause undesired operation.

Changes or modifications to this unit not expressly approved by the party responsible for compliance could void the user's authority to operate the equipment.

In order to comply with RF exposure requirements, a minimum distance of 20cm must be maintained between the antenna and all persons.
