

What defines fashionable in 2010? It's being the first to upload a YouTube™ video from the party. It's being able to update your Facebook® from the chair at the salon. It's quickly blasting out a dozen e-mails in a ten-minute cab ride. It's always having your key people right where you need them. It's getting all your message updates without even opening your phone. It means having a 2MP camera, QWERTY keyboard, and intuitive Hello UI just a touch away. LG Rumor™ Touch...where being fashionable takes on a whole new social definition.
