Read this documentation before using your computer

This documentation provides critical safety and regulatory information for Lenovo computers. Read this documentation before setting up and using your computer. It is designed to be used in conjunction with the setup poster provided with your computer and other important electronic user manuals developed to help you use your computer (see "Accessing the electronic user manuals" later in this document for more information).

If there are any other parts remaining in the shipping cartons after the initial setup, keep the parts for later use.

Safety information

Laser compliance statement

CAUTION:

When laser products (such as CD-ROMs, DVD drives, fiber optic devices, or transmitters) are installed, note the following:

- Do not remove the covers. Removing the covers of the laser product could result in exposure to hazardous laser radiation. There are no serviceable parts inside the device.
- Use of controls or adjustments or performance of procedures other than those specified herein might result in hazardous radiation exposure.

DANGER

Some laser products contain an embedded Class 3A or Class 3B laser diode. Note the following:
Laser radiation when open. Do not stare into the beam, do not view directly with optical instruments, and avoid direct exposure to the beam.

Plastic bag notice

DANGER

Plastic bags can be dangerous. Keep plastic bags away from babies and children to avoid danger of suffocation.

Lithium coin-cell battery notice

DANGER

Danger of explosion if battery is incorrectly replaced.

When replacing the lithium coin-cell battery, use only the same type or equivalent type that is recommended by the manufacturer. The battery contains lithium and can explode if not properly used, handled, or disposed of. Swallowing the lithium coin-cell battery will cause choking or severe internal burns in just two hours and might even result in death.

Keep batteries away from children. If the lithium coin-cell battery is swallowed or placed inside any part of the body, seek medical care immediately.

Do not:

- Throw or immerse into water
- Heat to more than 100°C (212°F)
- Repair or disassemble
- Leave in an extremely low air pressure environment
- Leave in an extremely high-temperature environment
- Crush, puncture, cut, or incinerate

Dispose of the battery as required by local ordinances or regulations.

The following statement applies to users in the state of California, U.S.A.

California Perchlorate Information:

Products containing manganese dioxide lithium coin-cell batteries may contain perchlorate.

Perchlorate Material - special handling may apply, See www.dtsc.ca.gov/hazardouswaste/perchlorate

Using earphones, headphones, or a headset

- If your computer has both a headphone connector and an audio line-out connector, always use the headphone connector for earphones, headphones, or a headset. However, the headphone connector does not support the microphone of the headset.
- If your computer has both a headset connector and an audio line-out connector, always use the headset connector for earphones, headphones, or a headset.

CAUTION:

Excessive sound pressure from earphones and headphones can cause hearing loss. Adjustment of the equalizer to maximum increases the earphone and headphone output voltage and the sound pressure level. Therefore, to protect your hearing, adjust the equalizer to an appropriate level.

Excessive use of headphones or earphones for a long period of time at high volume can be dangerous if the output of the headphone or earphone connectors do not comply with specifications of EN 50332-2. The headphone output connector of your computer complies with EN 50332-2 Sub clause 7. This specification limits the computer's maximum wide band true RMS output voltage to 150 mV. To help protect against hearing loss, ensure that the headphones or earphones you use also comply with EN 50332-2 (Clause 7 Limits) or a wide band characteristic voltage of 75 mV. Using headphones that do not comply with EN 50332-2 can be dangerous due to excessive sound pressure levels.

If your Lenovo computer came with headphones or earphones in the package, as a set, the combination of the headphones or earphones and the computer already complies with the specifications of EN 50332-1. If different headphones or earphones are used, ensure that they comply with EN 50332-1 (Clause 6.5 Limitation Values). Using headphones that do not comply with EN 50332-1 can be dangerous due to excessive sound pressure levels.

Caution about high volume usage

Caution: Exposure to loud noise from any source for extended periods of time might affect your hearing. The louder the sound, the less time is required before your hearing could be affected. To protect your hearing:

- Limit the amount of time you use headsets or headphones at high volume.
- Avoid turning up the volume to block out noisy surroundings.
- Turn down the volume if you cannot hear people speaking near you.

If you experience hearing discomfort, including the sensation of pressure or fullness in your ears, ringing in your ears, or muffled speech, you should stop listening to the device through your headset or headphones and have your hearing checked.

Windows recovery solutions

To restore the Microsoft® Windows® operating system, see the recovery information in the Important Product Information Guide. See "Accessing the electronic user manuals" in this document for additional information.

Accessing the electronic user manuals

The User Guide and Hardware Maintenance Manual provides detailed information about your computer. This manual is available from the Lenovo Support Web site. To access the manual, do either of the following:

- Go to <http://www.lenovo.com/UserManuals>.
- Scan the quick response (QR) code in the setup poster that comes with the product using smart devices.

Lenovo also preinstalls the following electronic user manuals on your computer:

- Important Product Information Guide: Provides information about legal, safety, operating system, and other regulatory information.
- Customer Replaceable Unit Guide: Provides instructions on replacing Customer Replaceable Units (CRUs).

To access the preinstalled user manuals, do the following:

Windows 10:

- For models with Lenovo Companion installed:
 1. Open the Start menu and then click or tap Lenovo Companion.
 2. Click or tap Support ➔ User Guide.
- For models with Lenovo Vantage installed:
 1. Open the Start menu and then click or tap Lenovo Vantage.
 2. Click or tap Health & Support ➔ User Guide.

Windows 7:

1. On your keyboard, press the Windows key+F1.
2. Click or tap Lenovo User Guide.

Service, support, and warranty information

The following information describes the technical support that is available for your product during the warranty period and throughout the life of your product. Online technical support is available throughout the lifetime of your product at:

<http://www.lenovo.com/support>

If you purchased Lenovo services, refer to the following terms and conditions for detailed information:

- For Lenovo Warranty Service Upgrades or Extensions, go to <http://support.lenovo.com/lwsu>.
- For Lenovo Accidental Damage Protection Services, go to <http://support.lenovo.com/ladps>.

Warranty information

The warranty type and warranty duration for Lenovo computers varies depending on the model and geographic location. To check the type, duration, and status of the warranty for your computer, go to <http://www.lenovo.com/warranty-status>, and then follow the instructions on the screen.

Your computer is covered by the terms of the Lenovo Limited Warranty (LLW), version L505-0010-02 08/2011. The LLW is displayed on your computer during the initial setup. After the initial setup has been completed, you can view the warranty information from your computer by doing the following:

Windows 10:

- For models with Lenovo Companion installed:
 - Open the Start menu and then click or tap Lenovo Companion.
 - Click Support. The warranty information is listed in the Warranty & Services section.
- For models with Lenovo Vantage installed:
 - Open the Start menu and then click or tap Lenovo Vantage.
 - Click or tap Health & Support ➔ Warranty & Services.

Windows 7:

- For ThinkCentre® models: From the Windows desktop, click Start ➔ All Programs ➔ Lenovo PC Experience ➔ Lenovo Warranty.
- For Lenovo models: Press the Windows key+F1, and then click or tap Lenovo User Guide.

If you cannot view the LLW either from the Web site (http://www.lenovo.com/warranty/llw_02) or from your computer, contact your local Lenovo office or reseller to obtain a printed version.

Customer Replaceable Units

Customer Replaceable Units (CRUs) are computer parts that the customer can upgrade or replace. There are two types of CRUs: self-service and optional-service. Self-service CRUs are easy to be installed. They may be standalone or latched, or require a screwdriver to remove a maximum of two screws, whereas optional-service CRUs require some technical skills, as well as tools such as a screwdriver. Customers are responsible for replacing all self-service CRUs. Optional-service CRUs can be removed and installed by customers or, during the warranty period, by a Lenovo service technician.

To view the instructions on replacing a CRU, see the respective section in the Customer Replaceable Unit Guide. See "Accessing the electronic user manuals" for additional information.

Worldwide telephone technical support

This section lists Lenovo Support telephone numbers. If you cannot find the support telephone number for your country or region, contact your Lenovo reseller or Lenovo marketing representative.

Before contacting a Lenovo technical support representative, have the following information available: model and serial number, the exact wording of any error message, and a description of the problem.

Important: Telephone numbers are subject to change without notice. The most up-to-date telephone list for the Customer Support Center is always available at:
