GB TECHNICAL SUPPORT

Can't get started - don't worry, we're here to help you!

Nearly all the products that are returned to us as faulty are not faulty at all - they have just not been installed properly. If you experience any difficulty with this product, please first visit our website www.cyborggaming.com.

The technical support area will provide you with all the information you need to get the most out of your product and should solve any problems you might have. If you do not have access to the internet, or if the website cannot answer your question, please contact your local Mad Catz Technical Support Team. We aim to offer quick, comprehensive and thorough technical support to all our users so, before you call, please make sure you have all the relevant information at hand.

FCC Compliance and Advisory Statement

Warning: Changes or modifications to this unit not expressly approved by the party responsible for compliance could void the user's authority to operate the equipment.

This device complies with Part 15 of the FCC Rules. Operation is subject to the following two conditions:

- 1 This device may not cause harmful interference, and;
- 2 This device must accept any interference received, including interference that may cause undesired operation.

NOTE: This equipment has been tested and found to comply with the limits for a Class B digital device, pursuant to Part 15 of the FCC Rules. These limits are designed to provide reasonable protection against harmful interference in a residential installation. This equipment generates, uses and can radiate radio frequency energy and, if not installed and used in accordance with the instructions, may cause harmful interference to radio communications. However, there is no guarantee that interference will not occur in a particular installation. If this equipment does cause harmful interference to radio or television reception, which can be determined by turning the equipment off and on, the user is encouraged to try to correct the interference by one or more of the following measures:

- Reorient or relocate the receiving antenna;
- Increase the separation between the equipment and receiver;
- Connect the equipment into an outlet on a circuit different from that to which the receiver is connected;
- Consult the dealer or an experienced radio/TV technician for help.

CONDITIONS OF WARRANTY

SEIZURES

Some individuals may have seizures or black outs triggered by the flashing lights on television or in video/PC games, even if they have never before had a seizure.

Anyone who has had a seizure, loss of awareness, or other symptom linked to an epileptic condition should consult a doctor before playing a video/PC game.

Parents should be aware when their children play video/PC games and observe them regularly. Stop playing and consult a doctor if you or your child have any of the following symptoms:

Convulsions, Loss of awareness, Involuntary movements, Eye or muscle twitching, Altered vision, Disorientation

When playing video/PC games:

1. Sit or stand as far from the screen as possible.
2. Play video games on the smallest available screen.
3. Do not play if you are tired or need rest.
4. Play in a well-lighted room.
5. Take a 15 minute break every hour.

REPETITIVE MOTION INJURIES

Playing video/PC games (and the repetitive motion involved) can make your muscles, joints or skin hurt.

Playing video/PC games in moderation can help avoid such damage. Also: Take a 10 to 15 minute break every hour, even if you don't think you need it. If your hands, wrists or arms begin to hurt or feel sore or tired, stop playing and rest them for several hours before playing again. If pain and soreness continues, stop playing and consult a doctor.
