

VS-1 Smart Camera New Name and New Price

Microscan is pleased to announce that the Microscan Visionscape Smart Camera has been re-named as the Microscan VS-1 and is now available at a new lower list price.

PRICE:

In line with Microscan's policy of offering high performance products at pricing that represents the best possible value, Microscan is announcing new pricing for the entire range of VS-1 Smart Cameras. The base VS-1 model, the 1610TS, will now be offered at a list price of $3,990. Prices for other models in the range are listed below.

NAME:

The camera formerly known as the Visionscape Smart Camera, and before that as the HawkEye Smart Camera, will now be known as the Microscan VS-1. The different models in the VS-1 range will continue to use the 1610TS, 1610TIS, etc. designations to indicate sensor resolution or installation of the Intellifind tool.

VS-1 PROPOSITION:

Integrators, end-users and machine vision system builders will continue to benefit from the ease with which the Visionscape development environment, tools, and hardware platforms allow rapid integration of highly capable industrial machine vision applications.

In the case of the VS-1 this capability is provided in a fully industrial IP67 smart camera form factor. Applications for the VS-1 smart camera are created in the same Visionscape development environment as those for PC based applications for GigE cameras. Applications created on one platform may be moved to the other with little or no modification.

In addition, the VS-1 includes 8 flexibly assigned built-in discrete IO points (24v, optically isolated, PNP/NPN) and TCP, Ethernet IP, and serial communications. The VS-1 also includes support for a range of direct-connect lights and an optional 21CFR part 11 compliant I-PAK GUI for pharmaceutical packaging applications.
