Get started

Before you start using your phone, remove the back cover to insert the micro-SIM card (also known as the mini-UICC card).

Remove the back cover

Make sure the phone is switched off.

1. At the top of the phone, put your fingernails in the seam between the screen frame and the back cover. Do not use any sharp tools, as they may damage the phone.
2. Place your thumb in the middle of the back cover and bend the cover to remove it.
3. If the battery is in, lift it out from the upper right corner.

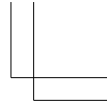

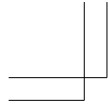

Insert the SIM and memory cards

1. Carefully slide the micro-SIM card into the SIM slot with the metal contact area down.
2. Slide the memory card into the memory card slot.

Important: Your device uses a micro-SIM card, also known as a mini-UICC SIM card. Use of incompatible SIM cards, or use of SIM card adapters, may damage the card or the device, and may corrupt data stored on the card.

Tip: For best performance, it is recommended that you use a fast 4–128GB memory card by a well-known manufacturer.

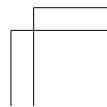

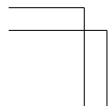

Replace the battery and back cover

1. Line up the battery contacts, and put the battery in.
2. Press the bottom edge of the back cover against the bottom edge of your phone, and snap the cover into place.
3. To switch your phone on, press the power key.

Charge the battery

Plug a compatible charger into a wall outlet, and connect the micro-USB end to your phone. You can also charge your phone from a computer with a USB cable.

If the battery is completely discharged, it may need to charge for up to 20 minutes before you can use your device. The charging indicator may not be displayed in this time.

Certification information (SAR)

This mobile device meets international guidelines for exposure to radio waves.

Your mobile device is a radio transmitter and receiver. It is designed not to exceed the limits for exposure to radio waves (radio frequency electromagnetic fields), recommended by international guidelines from the independent scientific organization ICNIRP. These guidelines incorporate substantial safety margins that are intended to assure the protection of all persons regardless of age and health. The exposure guidelines are based on the Specific Absorption Rate (SAR), which is an expression of the amount of radio frequency (RF) power deposited in the head or body when the device is transmitting. The ICNIRP SAR limit for mobile devices is 2.0 W/kg averaged over 10 grams of tissue.

SAR tests are carried out with the device in standard operating positions, transmitting at its highest certified power level, in all its frequency bands. The maximum recorded SAR values for this device are:

	Maximum SAR value	Frequency bands used when Maximum SAR value was recorded
When held against the head	1.09 W/kg over 10g	4-slot GPRS 900 and WLAN 2450
When operated at a separation distance of 1.5 centimetres (5/8 inch) from the body	1.19 W/kg over 10g	4-slot GPRS 900 and WLAN 2450

Your mobile device is also designed to meet the United States Federal Communications Commission (FCC) guidelines. FCC ratings for your device and more information on SAR can be found at transition.fcc.gov/oet/rfsafety/sar.html.

This device meets RF exposure guidelines when used against the head or when positioned at least 1.5 centimetres (5/8 inch) away from the body. When a carry case, belt clip or other form of device holder is used for body-worn operation, it should not contain metal and should provide at least the above stated separation distance from the body. To send data or messages, a good connection to the network is needed. Sending may be delayed until such a connection is available. Follow the separation distance instructions until the sending is finished.

During general use, the SAR values are usually well below the values stated above. This is because, for purposes of system efficiency and to minimise interference on the network, the operating power of your mobile is automatically decreased when full power is not needed for the call. The lower the power output, the lower the SAR value. Device models may have different versions and more than one value. Component and design changes may occur over time and some changes could affect SAR values. The latest available SAR information for this and other Nokia device models can be found at www.nokia.com/sar.

For more info, go to www.sar-tick.com. Note that mobile devices may be transmitting even if you are not making a voice call.

The World Health Organization (WHO) has stated that current scientific information does not indicate the need for any special precautions when using mobile devices. If you are interested in reducing your exposure, they recommend you limit your usage or use a hands-free kit to keep the device away from your head and body. For more information and explanations and discussions on RF exposure, go to the WHO website at www.who.int/peh-emf/en.
