Caution!

You must attach the SportVue Head Mounted Display Unit (the “HMD”) so its display appears only at the top of your field of view, just below your helmet line.

The HMD unit must never obstruct your forward field of view. It cannot be in your straight line of sight.

Use of this HMD unit is strictly limited to motorcycling, while wearing an approved, properly fitted, DOT-approved helmet.

Follow the instructions on page 9 to make sure your HMD Unit is positioned correctly.

Do not position the HMD Unit in any other position for any reason other than specified. Failure to install the HMD Unit properly is both a risk and a hazard that can impair a safe field of view.

Using the HMD Unit does not replace or override any manufacturer’s installed equipment. This HMD Unit is an accessory device designed to provide supplemental information within your normal field of view while riding your motorcycle.

This HMD Unit does not increase or improve your abilities to ride a motorcycle, reduce your risk of injury or death, or enable you to assume any benefits other than information display.

In a few cases, this HMD Unit may not be suitable for some motorcyclists because of personal limitations including and not limited to vision deficiencies or supplemental vision appliances. You should consult your qualified SportVue retailer for initial determination. If you are unsure, you should consult your optical or vision resource for assessment.

This HMD Unit should not be used in conjunction or combination with any device or appliance that will impair your ability to see safely.

Use only one (1) HMD Unit on a single helmet at a time. You can move and install the Motorcycle Sending Unit onto other motorcycles.

The HMD unit, like all products may wear out over time depending upon its use and amount of care it is given. Please check your HMD including the display, helmet clip, MSU and wiring loom before each use for damage and do not use if damaged.

Operating a motorcycle is dangerous and can cause injury or death. You should always wear a Department of Transportation-approved safety helmet. Wear appropriate safety apparel, ride within your ability, and observe all the rules of the road for safe motorcycling.

If you experience nausea or headache while using the HMD Unit, you should stop using SportVue. Under normal use, this device does not create any discomfort. If you experience nausea or headache, you should consult your physician to see if you have any unforeseen physical issues.

Do not operate your motorcycle or use this device if you are taking any medications or substances (including drugs or alcohol) that may impair proper and safe use.

This product is not approved as a certified measurement device.

YOU ARE INSTRUCTED TO READ THIS ENTIRE OWNER’S MANUAL, INCLUDING BUT NOT LIMITED TO THE SECTIONS TITLED “DISCLAIMER OF WARRANTIES”, “LIMITATION OF LIABILITY” & “DISCLAIMER OF CONSEQUENTIAL DAMAGES”, BEGINNING ON PAGE 24, BEFORE USING THE SPORTVUE UNIT.

SportVue MC1 Components

SportVue innovative design has two small, lightweight components:

- A Head-mounted Display Unit (“HMD Unit”) that mounts on the visor of your helmet, using the patented break-away Mounting Clip.
- A Motorcycle Sending Unit (“MSU Unit”) that mounts on your motorcycle using no permanent fasteners, and includes a universal wiring loom.
- The HMD Unit and the MSU Unit together are called a “SportVue MC1” in this owner’s manual.

HMD Unit

Fig. 1 SportVue Head-Mounted Display and Mounting Clip

HMD Unit projects the speed, RPM and gear position in the periphery of your view, focused out at near infinity.

HMD Unit presents the data in a clear image that is easy to read. The image is displayed in your peripheral vision, within your normal field of view. It is focused in front of you, requiring little or no focus time.

All data is continually updated.

Motorcycle Sending Unit

Fig. 2 Motorcycle Sending Unit

The MSU Unit captures speed or RPM data from your motorcycle and calculates gear position based on this information. The MSU Unit processes the data and sends it to the HMD Unit display via a custom wireless link.

Installation

In order to safely use SportVue, you must properly install the HMD Unit and the MSU Unit. The end result should be a HMD Unit that is firmly attached to the visor of your helmet and visible above the line of sight of your dominant eye and a MSU Unit that is firmly attached to your motorcycle.

Fig. 3 Installation Positioning...Need better picture

Eye Dominance

To find which your dominant eye is, take this simple test:

Pick a point 8-12 feet away to look at with both eyes open. Wear any corrective lenses you would normally use for distance vision. Hold your thumb up to align with that point and close your right eye only. If your thumb appears to move to the right, you are right-eye dominant.

If your thumb appears to stay put, you are left-eye dominant. To confirm left-eye dominance, close your left eye only. Your thumb should appear to move to the left.

Approximately 70% of the population is right-eye dominant, however another 15% are equally dominant in both eyes and can use a right-eye display.

Eye dominance is not necessarily associated with left- or right-handedness. SportVue is designed to work equally well in either case and should be positioned above the dominant eye.

Install Batteries

SportVue uses two “AAA” batteries, which are supplied with the system. For battery installation and replacement, remove the HMD Unit battery cover by sliding the locking tab with your thumb. Insert two AAA batteries. (see fig. 4) Use caution to install batteries in their correct polarity. Replace the top cover. Slid the locking tab back securely. To remove batteries, remove cover, and tap the back of the HMD against your palm to free the batteries. Do not attempt to pry them out with tools; you may damage the housing seal and/or contacts.

Fig. 4 - HMD battery location (need new photo with correct polarity indicated)

HMD Unit Installation

Dry-fit the HMD Unit before you permanently attach it:

1. Do not remove the double-sided-tape backing on the Display Mounting Clip yet.
2. Using clear tape or another type of temporary material, cover the general area of the visor where the HMD Unit will be located.
3. Assemble the Mounting Clip and the display unit by sliding the Adaptors “tongue” into the Mounting Clip’s “groove”. Adjust the display and base at the midpoint of the up/down movement.
4. Sit on your motorcycle in your normal riding position with your helmet on.
5. Position the HMD Unit above your dominate eye. Make any necessary left/right and vertical adjustments. The typical distance between the center of the visor and the center of the display mount is approximately 1.4” or 35.5mm. This is referred to as the “intraocular distance” and is half of the average distance between most persons eyes.

6. The bottom of the HMD Unit should be just above your normal field of view while looking out at a road ahead. You should have to barely glance upwards to see the display.
7. Turn the HMD Unit display on (see the “Turning the Unit On” section on page 9 for instructions).
8. If the HMD Unit display is not readily visible, you or an assistant can adjust the mirror. Place the Allen wrench provided into the small hole under the display. Turn the wrench one way or the other until the image is clear and is not “clipped” at the top or bottom. Slide the clip base along the top edge of the visor until both edges of the display are visible. Mark the foot base location with a marker pen.
9. IMPORTANT: The inner edge of the mounting foot nearest the center of the helmet has a small lip that MUST locate on the top edge of the visor. Once located, you can rotate the clip by moving the outer foot up to down to achieve a vertical alignment. (see fig. 5)

Need photo of aligning the display mounting clip

Fig. 5 HMD Unit Display Mounting Clip

10. Using the piece of sandpaper that came with the HMD, prep the surface of the helmet visor only on the location where the clip will mount onto the visor. Do not use sandpaper in any other location or this will cause permanent damage to the visor. We recommend taping with clear tape the surrounding areas of the marked helmet clip mounting location to prevent accidental scratching of the visor. (See fig. 6)
11. Using the alcohol swabs provided, thoroughly clean the scoured area of the visor for maximum adhesion.
12. Remove the clear tape from your visor, but make sure the scoured mounting area is clearly visible.

Need photo of visor being sanded with mask

*Fig. 6 – Preparing the VisorAttachment

1. Remove the double-sided-tape backing from the clip foot base and carefully place the clip onto the helmet, making sure the inside foot base lip is located on the top edge of the visor.
2. Firmly push the clip onto the visor, using pressure on inner and outer foot base with your thumb and forefinger. (see fig. 7)
3. Fit the HDM Unit into the base.
4. Check the location while you are wearing the helmet.

The pressure sensitive adhesive (PSA) will not cure completely for 24 hours, but is safe for a test ride within 10-15 minutes. If you placed the HDM Unit in the wrong place, the PSA will allow one or two removals before it loses its adhesion.

Motorcycle Sending Unit Installation

1. Begin the MSU installation by finding a suitable location for the MSU box on your motorcycle. The recommended location is in the fairing area or near the existing gauges, or under the seat or near the rear of the bike. In either case, the unit should be aligned so that the wires are extending out of the front or back of the MSU unit, not the side. Also insure that there is a minimum amount of metal and/or body mass between the MSU and the display. An excess of either may cause an intermittent radio signal.

Fig. 8 Typical MSU Location

2. Next, mount the wheel speed sensor by attaching the sensor bracket on the lower brake caliper bolt. This should be done on rear wheel only. If your motorcycle has rear drum brake, or a shaft drive, it is possible to mount the sensor on the front wheel, however, you may experience speed and/or gear position fluctuations as a result. There are two brackets included with the SV kit, chose the one that will allow the sensor to come within .200" (5.5mm) of the brake disc. Some modification of either bracket may be required on your particular bike.

3. Leave the sensor loose on the bracket and find a suitable location for the magnet. The magnet will be bonded onto the brake rotor inside of the actual brake contact surface. WARNING: NEVER BOND THE MAGNET TO THE ACTUAL BRAKING SURFACE OR IN SUCH A WAY AS TO IMPEDE THE BRAKES OPERATIONS. THIS CAN LEAD TO BRAKE IMPAIRMENT AND INJURY. The best location is on a rib of the rotor, inside the contact surface and aligned radially to pass past the sensor (see Fig. 9, below).

Fig.9 – Wheel Speed Sensor and magnet Installation

4. Clean the area onto which you will bond the magnet thoroughly with the alcohol swab and/or commercially available brake clean aerosol. Next, place a small amount of the quick-setting epoxy provided onto the magnet and then hold the magnet in place for at least 2 minutes while the epoxy sets.
5. Adjust the sensor to come within NO MORE than .200" (5.5mm) of the magnet as the wheel rotates. Tighten jamb nuts to hold securely. DO NOT OVERTIGHTEN, AS THE SENSOR IS PLASTIC AND YOU MAY DAMAGE THE THREADS ON THE SENSOR.
6. Use the tie wraps provided to tidy up the wire back to the connector. (see Fig. 10) Use caution as to not place the wires too close to the chain, sprockets or exhaust pipes and headers.

Fig. 10 Tie-wrap loose wires

7. Next, locate the RPM output wire from your bikes camshaft or crankshaft sensor. (See Figure #8, below). Please refer to your owner's manual or www.sportvue.net for additional help in locating this wire. Once located, use one of the "quick tap" connectors provided. to tap into the wire securely. (see Fig. 11) These connectors are designed to pierce the insulation without damaging the wire for a waterproof connection without splicing.
8. Use the tie wraps provided to tidy up the wire back to the connector. Use caution as to not place the wires too close to the chain, sprockets or exhaust pipes and headers.

Fig. 11 – RPM wire tap

9. Next, locate suitable 12V power and ground wires by referring to your bikes owners manual or www.sportvue.net for your particular bike. These should be "switched" power, meaning that it is only hot when the bike ignition is "on". Once located, use one of the "quick tap" connectors provided to tap into both power and ground wires securely (see fig. 12)

Fig. 12 - Power and ground wire taps

Use the tie wraps provided to tidy up and excess wire back to the connector. Loose wire can get caught and create a safety hazard. Use caution as to not place the wires too close to the chain, sprockets or exhaust pipes and headers.

10. The final step is to mount the MSU box using either the Velcro or tie-wraps provided and connecting the loom connector to the MSU box by securely plugging the two halves of the connector together. (see Fig. 13) Please insure that the connector is plugged together correctly. It only fits together one way, so don't force it, you may damage the connector.

Fig.13 - MSU Connector Installation

Turning the HMD Unit On

SportVue units have a three-function push button switch on top.

- One push of the button turns the HMD Unit display on and the backlight to its brightest setting. This is the recommended setting for situations where bright ambient sunlight does not provide sufficient brightness.
- Push again, and the backlight goes to its brighter setting. This is for very bright days or early morning or early evening, when you are heading into the sun.
- A final push turns the backlight off, but the HMD Unit display remains on. This is the “ambient light” setting and can be used when the sky is bright enough.
- To turn the LCD and power off, hold the button down for three or more seconds.

8. Place the helmet on your head and push the button on the HMD down and you will see it display a software version number briefly, then show “PWR ON”. If you are within 15 feet of the bike, you should then see the display as “0” on the speed indicator (the three left hand digits) and an “N” on the gear position indicator (the far right digit) if this is not the case, check all connections and refer to the “FAQ” sheet at www.sportvue.net (see fig. 14)

Training the MSU for Your Motorcycle

The next and final step in the SportVue installation is to “train” the MSU for your particular wheel size and gearing. One of the many features of SportVue MC1 is the ability of the software to “learn” different settings for different motorcycles and allow the user to accurately set tire circumference and therefore allow for an accurate speed reading.

The unit comes pre-set from the factory for 17” wheels with an outer tire circumference of 75”. If your bike uses a stock 17” wheel on the sensed end of the bike, you can skip steps #1-9 and proceed directly to step # 10.

Tire Diameter

1. If your wheel is smaller or larger than 17” or your tire is non-stock and the outer circumference is smaller or larger than 75”, then you must:
2. Measure the outer circumference of the rear tire with a small tape measure or cloth seamstress-style measuring tape. This is will be the number that will be entered into the MSU through the Menu option.
3. Place the helmet on your head so that you can see the display and turn the HMD unit on.
4. With the motorcycle ignition in the “OFF” position, push and hold the button on the side of the MSU marked “B”, while turning the ignition to the “ON” position. CAUTION - DO NOT START THE MOTORCYCLE.
5. The display should begin showing the word “MENU” release the “B” button.
6. Now push the “B” button again to scroll through the menu setup options. The first should say “GEAR”, then “TIRE”.
7. Now you can push the “A” button to increase or decrease the tire circumference. SportVue is designed to allow for circumference inputs from as low as 30” to as high as 99”. This corresponds to outer tire diameters as small as 9.5” to as large as 31”.
8. The diameter is a 3 digit number where the last number represents .1 inches, the middle digit represents inches and the first digit is 10’s of inches. In other words if the display reads “765”, that represents a CIRCUMFERENCE (not diameter) of 76.5”. The number is input one digit at a time. Use the “A” button to adjust the value. Use the “B” button to switch to the next digit. Continue through all three digits of your value. Push the “B” button to return to the menu.
9. Once the wheel diameter is set, than you can begin “training” the MSU to recognize your gear ratios.

Gear Ratios

- 10. CAUTION – TRAINING THE MSU FOR GEAR POSITION IS BEST DONE ON A PIT STAND, OUTSIDE AND WITH THE HELP OF A FRIEND.
11. Place your motorcycle on a flat, smooth surface on a secure rear center stand with no obstructions in front of you, in case the bike falls forward.
12. Replace the helmet on your head so that you can see the display and turn the HMD unit on if it has turned off
- 13. With the motorcycle ignition in the “OFF” position, push and hold the button on the side of the MSU marked “B”, while turning the ignition to the “ON” position. CAUTION - DO NOT START THE MOTORCYCLE YET.
14. The display should begin showing the word “MENU”, release the “B” button.
15. Now push the “B” button again and the display should show “LEARN”. Push “B” again and the number “1” will begin to flash on the right side of the display. The MSU is now ready to learn your motorcycle gear ratios.
16. Make sure the motorcycles Neutral indicator shows “N” and start your motorcycle.
17. The gear indicator should be flashing a “1” on the right side of the display. Standing on the same side of your motorcycle as the shift lever, pull in the clutch and put your motorcycle in 1st gear. Let the clutch out slowly and increase the RPM to approximately 3000 and you should then see the speed indicator and the RPM begin to move higher.
18. The gear indicator will flash five times and then the SportVue will begin data sampling to learn this gear
19. When it is done learning that gear, the display will change to “SHIFT”.
20. You should now shift up to the next gear. The gear indicator should be flashing “2” and will flash five times before it begins sampling to learn 2nd gear.
21. This will continue through 6 gears. If your bike only has 5 gears, simply leave it in top gear when you are asked to switch to 6th gear.
22. It is important that the bike be moderately accelerating when the SportVue does the sampling. If the bike is coasting or decelerating when sampling occurs, inaccuracy in the gear indication can occur. Sampling occurs after the 5th flash of the gear number. (See Fig. 15 below)

Need photo of flashing gear position

Fig. 15 – Display showing gear position on left and speed on right

23. Once you have run the bike through all of the gears, place the bike back in Neutral and the gear indicator should show begin to show "N" in a few seconds. The unit calculates wheel speed and engine speed to determine gear position, so if the wheel speed sensor is connected to the rear wheel and the wheel is still turning, it may still show the bike in 1st or 2nd gear even though the bike is actually in neutral. Upon coming to a complete stop, the display should show "0" on the left side of the display. Occasionally, upon stopping fully, the display will still show a low speed, like "4" or "6" in the speed window. This is normal and it will go back to "0" as within 3 seconds.
24. NEVER RELY ON THE GEAR POSITION OR SPEED INDICATOR ON SPORTVUE TO BE A RELIABLE INDICATOR OF NEUTRAL BEFORE LETTING OUT THE CLUTCH. YOU MUST STILL USE THE BIKES OWN NEUTRAL INDICATOR FOR SAFETY REASONS. THERE ARE CIRCUMSTANCES WHERE THE GEAR POSITION INDICATED WILL NOT BE CORRECT IN THE NEUTRAL POSITION DUE TO THE WAY SPORTVUE CALCULATES THE GEAR. THE SAME HOLDS TRUE FOR SPEED. THE SPORTVUE DISPLAY MAY OR MAY NOT SHOW THE CORRECT SPEED. THIS IS ONLY AN AUXILIARY DEVICE AND SHOULD NOT BE RELIED UPON FOR SAFETY REASONS.

Setting the Shift Indicator

Your new SportVue is equipped with a user-programmable shift indicator for advanced users. Instructions on programming this feature can be found at www.sportvue.net

Learning to Use HMD

Before you begin using your SportVue HMD on the open road, we recommend you wear your HMD Unit-installed helmet while seated on your motorcycle to see how it feels.

Look in all directions and see how the information is always visible. The more you practice looking, the easier it will be for you when you take to the open road.

It is important that you not fixate on the HMD Unit display, but practice glancing up at it briefly, when safe to do so.

Do not practice while the engine is running, whether the motorcycle is on its center stand or not.

First Ride

After completing your normal motorcycle pre-check including inspection of your SportVue unit, turn on your HMD Unit display. Put on your helmet and secure it properly.

If your SportVue HMD Unit is loose in its helmet mount or slides out with little or no effort, do not use it. Remove it and contact us at techsupport@motionresearch.com for service. Improper use can cause the unit to fail or create an unsafe situation.

Adjust your helmet and check to see if the HMD Unit is in the proper position. Remember, you can make minor vertical adjustments to the HMD Unit.

Start your motorcycle. You should see the RPM register in the HMD Unit display, indicating wireless communication between the MSU Unit and the HMD Unit.

Note that the SportVue automatically learns the RPM range of your bike and this may take some time. Initially the RPM display will be much higher than you think it should be. It will come down as you ride your bike. Within a few rides the RPM should have learned the rpm range of your motor and should behave as expected.

When ready, begin riding. Operate your motorcycle in a safe manner, briefly glancing up at the HMD Unit display. Remember; do not fixate on the HMD Unit display. You will see the information change according to your engine and speed performance.

If the HMD loses the signal momentarily from the MSU, the display should “freeze” in the last position for up to 3 seconds. If the signal is lost for more than 3 seconds, the display will show “NO SIG” and begin searching for the signal. During this time, the display will be inoperative and cannot be used. Once it finds the signal again, it will come back on and operate normally. If the unit fails to find the signal again, turn it off and check all connections and batteries once stopped safely. If you continue to have problems, contact the FAQ page at www.sportvue.net.

When you have finished riding, remove your helmet and turn off your SportVue MC1 HMD Unit.

Care and Cleaning

Under normal circumstances, a soft cloth—either dry or moistened with water—will clean the HMD Unit and the MSU Unit. To remove dried matter (bugs), you may need to pre-moisten the HMD Unit and the MSU Unit with a non-abrasive sponge before cleaning it.

Stubborn cleaning may require a cloth moistened with non-ammonia Windex. Ammonia and general spray cleaners may be too harsh and can harm the finish.

Do not use any paper products to clean the screen of the HMD Unit—they can scratch the display.

Never use abrasive cleaners, waxes or solvents for your cleaning.

Never use any abrasive material to remove dirt particles.

Although SportVue has been designed to use in inclement weather, never immerse the unit in water!

If the viewing window of SportVue becomes fogged up, try leaving the unit inside in a warm, dry place for a few days. This should return the unit to normal. If it does not, please contact www.sportvue.net for a warranty return authorization number (RNA).
