- If you are using a "Call Forwarding" service from a land-line phone and if a mobile phone is set as the forwarding number, depending on the settings of the land-line phone or mobile phone, the caller may simply hear the ring tone even when the mobile phone is busy with another call, out of range, in Self mode or turned off.
- Your FOMA terminal supports "Emergency Location Report".
  Calls made to emergency service organizations (e.g. by dialing 110, 119 or 118) disclose information on the caller's location to the organization receiving the call. The location information may not be correctly sent depending on the current location or signal quality.
  When the location information is disclosed, "Success" icon appears on the standby screen.
  The location information and phone number are not disclosed when, before each individual call made, "184" or another blocking prefix is dialed first. If the information are deemed necessary for the protection of life, etc., this information may be reported to the organization being called. Locations planned for adoption of this feature vary according to the status of the preparations by the relevant emergency service organizations.
- When calling 110, 119 or 118 from the FOMA terminal, first say you are calling from a mobile phone, give your number, and state your location clearly, because the police or fire department may call you back for confirmation. Also, do not move around when making the call. Do not turn off the power immediately after ending the call, but leave it turned on for ten minutes or so, so that you can receive a call.
- Depending on the area you are calling from, you may not be connected with the nearest police or fire department, etc. In this case, dial from a public or land-line phone.
