Tim,
In response to the FCC request for a corrected SAR statement I am providing this page from the users manual that contains the SAR statement. At this time I cannot provide the entire user manual due to the fact that it contains some "marketing sensitive" material. The complete manual will be available for upload at a later date, after product launch, if required.

I hope, for the time being, this satisfies the FCC's requests.

Sincerely,

David Waitt
