Hard Disk Backup Function

The hard disk backup function creates a backup area (storage area) on the hard disk. This area is to back up (store) hard disk contents or restore backed up contents to their original locations.

By backing up the data on your hard disk to a backup area, you can protect your data from loss or damage resulting from operational errors or other factors. Also, you can back up or restore hard disk contents using this computer alone, without having to use other media or peripheral devices.

At the time of purchase, the hard disk backup function is disabled. If you follow the procedure below to create a backup area, the hard disk backup function will be enabled, and you will be able to back up your data. Note, that once the backup function has been enabled, you will have to perform the reinstallation procedure to disable it again (☞ page 33).

The hard disk backup function cannot back up or restore data properly if there is a problem with the hard disk when the data is backed up or restored. Note that if an error occurs while data is being restored, whether as a result of an unexpected malfunction, incorrect operation, or other reason, the data in the hard disk (data before restoration) may be lost.

Matsushita Electric Industrial Co., Ltd. will bear no responsibility for any damages suffered by the user (including loss of data) as a result of the use of this function.

Preparing

- Product Recovery CD-ROM (included)
- Panasonic CD/DVD drive (optional: Confirm the latest information on optional products in catalogs, etc.)

Before Using a Hard Disk Backup Function

- Disconnect or remove all peripheral devices (except for the CD/DVD drive), as the backup area may not be created properly while these devices are connected.
- Be sure the AC adaptor is connected to the computer.
- A backup area cannot be created if the hard disk is already divided into several partitions. Return the computer to its condition at the time of purchase (one partition only), and create the backup area.
- To divide the partition, make the selection when the backup area is created (☞ page 38 step 8).
- If the partition configuration is changed (partitions created, size changed, etc.) after the backup area has been created, it will no longer be possible to execute the backup function. To change the configuration, it is necessary to return the computer to its condition at the time of purchase, and then create the backup area again.
- The hard disk backup function will only work for the internal hard disk. This function does not work with an external hard disk or the second hard disk (optional).
- Backup and restore functions will not operate if the hard disk has been damaged.
- Do not use the NTFS file system compression function, as this may result in insufficient capacity of the backup area.
- If the hard disk malfunctions, it will be impossible to read the data stored on it. We recommend that you also back up important data to a location other than the hard disk (an external hard disk or other media).
- Execute a disk error check using the following procedure.
 - 1 Select [Local Disk(C:)] with the right button in [start] - [My Computer], and select [Properties].
 - 2 Select [Check Now] from [Tools].
 - 3 In [Check Disk], select [Start] without adding a check mark beside any of the items.
If a message is displayed indicating that there is an error in the disk, display [Check Disk], and add a check mark for [Automatically fix file system errors] and [Scan for and attempt recovery of bad sectors], select [Start], and check for disk errors again.
- The hard disk backup function does not accommodate dynamic disks. Do not convert the hard disk to a dynamic disk.

Hard Disk Backup Function

NOTE

- Regarding backup area
 - Requires availability of at least half of the entire hard disk. Without sufficient space available, the backup area cannot be created.
 - When the backup area is created, the usable hard disk capacity will be reduced to less than half.
 - The backup area cannot be accessed from Windows. For this reason, backed up data cannot be copied to CD-R or other removable disk media.
 - When the hard disk backup function is executed, data in the backup area will be overwritten. If newly created or edited data is backed up later, data stored previously in the backup area will be lost.

Create a Backup Area

- 1 Turn off the computer and insert the CD/DVD drive into the multimedia pocket. (☞ Reference Manual “Multimedia Pocket”)
- 2 Turn on the computer, and press (F2) while [Panasonic] boot screen is displayed. The Setup Utility will then start.
If a password has been set, enter the Supervisor Password. You cannot register [Boot] menu with a User Password.

The backup area is then created.
- 10 When the message [You must reboot in order to enable the Backup function] appears, remove the recovery CD, and press any key to restart the computer. The computer is restarted, then the backup process will begin.
- 11 When the message [[Backup] is complete] appears, press Ctrl + Alt + Del to restart the computer.

CAUTION

- Do not press Ctrl + Alt + Del until the message is displayed.

- 12 After logging on to Windows, a message will appear advising that a new device has been installed and that the computer must be restarted to enable the settings. Select [Yes] to restart the computer.

NOTE

- The [Boot] menu in the Setup Utility is set to start up from the CD/DVD drive. Change this setting if necessary.
- The next time the backup or restore functions are executed, follow the procedure for [Backing Up and Restoring Data] (☞ below).

Backing Up and Restoring Data

CAUTION

- Before executing the backup function, execute a disk error check (☞ page 37).
- Do not interrupt the backup or restore functions before completion, for example by turning off the power or pressing Ctrl + Alt + Del, as this may prevent Windows from starting up, or may cause data to be lost so that the backup and restore functions cannot be executed.

- 1 Turn the computer on, and press F2 while [Panasonic] boot screen is displayed. The Setup Utility will start up.
If a password has been set, enter the Supervisor Password or the User Password.
- 2 Select [Exit] menu, then select [Hard Disk Backup / Restore] and press Enter.
At the confirmation message, select [Yes] and press Enter.

Hard Disk Backup Function

- 3 Select the operation to be executed from the menu.
<To back up hard disk contents to the backup area>
 - ① Press 1 to execute [1. [Backup]].
(When dividing the hard disk into two partitions, select the backup method at next screen.)
 - ② At the confirmation message, press Y.
The backup process will begin.<To restore backed up contents to the hard disk>
 - ① Press 2 to execute [2. [Restore]].
(When data is backed up in two partitions, select the restore method at next screen.)
 - ② At the confirmation message, press Y.
The restore process will begin.

NOTE

- The time required to complete the backup or restore process differs depending on the data volume.

- 4 When the message [[Backup] is complete] or [[Restore] is complete] is displayed, press Ctrl + Alt + Del to restart the computer.
 - If the backup or restore process was interrupted before completion, for example if the power was turned off, execute the process again.
 - After logging on to Windows, when a new device is installed and a message appears advising that the computer must be restarted to enable the settings, select [Yes] to restart the computer.

CAUTION

- When the hard disk backup function has been enabled, the backed up data will not be erased even if a commercial data erasing utility or similar software is used to erase all data from user-accessible area. You can use the hard disk data erase utility included in this computer (☞ page 41) to erase all data on the hard disk, including backed up data. Use this hard disk data erase utility before disposing of or transferring ownership of this computer.
 - Occasionally, the message [#1805 cannot write image file] will be displayed, and the backup function will be interrupted. If this error occurs, execute the backup function again. After this, if the backup function is completed properly, then there is no problem in the hard disk.
- To disable the hard disk backup function
Perform the reinstallation procedure. All data in the backup area and the hard disk will be erased.
Conduct steps 1-8 for [Reinstalling Software] (☞ page 33). Select [1] or [2] to execute the reinstallation at the screen for executing the reinstallation.
 - When [1] is selected, the hard disk backup function can be disabled.
 - When [2] is selected, the hard disk backup function can be disabled, but in this case, because the hard disk has been divided into partitions, the hard disk backup function cannot be re-enabled (☞ page 24).
 - When [3] is selected, the hard disk backup function cannot be disabled.

Hard Disk Data Erase Utility

This computer is equipped with a utility for erasing hard disk data.

When disposing of or transferring ownership of this device, erase all data on the hard disk in order to prevent the theft of hard disk data by following the steps below.

The hard disk data erase utility erases data using an “overwriting” method, but there is a possibility that due to malfunctions or other operational errors, data may not be completely erased. There are also specialized devices that may be able to read data that has been erased using this method. If you need to erase highly confidential data, we recommend that you contact a company that specializes in this process. Matsushita Electric Industrial Co., Ltd. will bear no responsibility for losses or damages suffered as a result of the use of this utility.
