Introduction

Thank you for purchasing the PT003. Before using your PT003, be sure to read the PT003 Basic Manual (this PDF manual) to ensure correct usage. After you have finished reading this manual, store this PDF manual and the printed manuals in safe places so you can retrieve them whenever you need them.

Manuals for the PT003

There are three manuals for the PT003: the Basic Manual, printed Instruction Manual (Japanese) and printed full Instruction Manual (Japanese).

- For learning the basics:

Read the PT003 Basic Manual (this manual) or printed PT003 Instruction Manual (Japanese).

- For learning details on using each function:

The printed full Instruction Manual (Japanese) gives detailed instructions on using each function.

To ensure proper usage of the PT003, be sure to read the Safety Precautions “安全上のご注意” in the Instruction Manual.

The keyword searchable au Online Manual is also available on the au homepage:

<http://www.au.kddi.com/manual/index.html>

- To access from EZweb (Packet communication charges do not apply.):

 ⇒ Top Menu/Search ⇒ *au*お客様サポート (au Customer Support) ⇒ オンラインマニュアル (Online Manual)

Notes on Cell Phone Use

Cell Phone Etiquette

The cell phone always emits weak radio waves when power is on.

Use the cell phone in an enjoyable and safe manner without forgetting to be considerate of others around you.

- Use of cell phones is not allowed in some places.
 - Do not use the cell phone while you are driving. Doing so is both dangerous and prohibited by law.
 - Using a cell phone in an aircraft is prohibited by law. Be sure to turn the cell phone off.
- Radio waves from cell phones may interfere with medical electrical equipment.
 - Some people close to you in crowded places such as packed trains may be using a cardiac pacemaker. Turn the cell phone off in such places.
 - Abide by the rules of hospitals and other medical institutions where it is forbidden to use or carry cell phones.
- Be considerate of where you use the cell phone and how loudly you talk.
 - Do not make calls in theaters, museums, libraries, and other similar places. Turn power off or turn on manner mode not to disturb others around you by ring tones.
 - Do not use the cell phone on a street where you might interrupt the flow of pedestrians.
 - Move to areas where you will not inconvenience others on trains or in hotel lobbies.
 - Refrain from talking in a loud voice.

- Obtain the permission of other people before you take their photos with the cell phone's camera.
- Do not record information with the cell phone's camera in bookstores and other locations where taking photos is not permitted.

Do not use the cell phone while driving!

Turn off your cell phone or put it in Drive Mode while driving.

Do not use the cell phone while driving a car/motorcycle or riding a bicycle. It may result in a traffic accident. Using a cell phone while driving is prohibited by law. Using a cell phone while riding a bicycle may also be punishable by law.

Prohibited!

- Looking at a cell phone display
- Talking on a cell phone while holding it

Drive Mode

In Drive Mode, a Japanese message meaning "I'm driving now, so I can't answer your call." is played when a call is received, and asks the caller to leave a message on the easy voice memo.

When the standby screen is displayed, press , use  to select Drive Mode, and then press  (OK).

Disaster Message Board Service

When a large scale disaster occurs, you can register your safety information from EZweb. The registered information can be referred from anywhere in Japan from EZweb or Internet.

Registering safety information

- When a large scale disaster occurs, from an au phone, you can register your safety information (i.e. your condition and comments) to the 災害用伝言板 (Disaster Message Board) created on the EZweb.
- After registration of your safety information, e-mail is sent to your family or acquaintances you have previously designated to notify that your safety information has been uploaded to the 災害用伝言板 (Disaster Message Board).

Inquiring for safety information

- You can inquire for safety information of a person by entering his/her phone number from EZweb or Internet.*
* To inquire from other carriers' cell phone, a PHS or PC, access "<http://dengon.ezweb.ne.jp/>".

Access	 ⇒ Top Menu/Search ⇒ 災害用伝言板 (Disaster Message Board)
	http://dengon.ezweb.ne.jp/

- Registered information is stored until the service set up for the disaster ends.
- The maximum available number of registrations is 10 per phone number. When the number of registrations exceeds 10, the oldest one is overwritten.
- The demonstration of this service can be referred to anytime by pressing  ⇒ Top Menu/Search ⇒ au お客さまサポート (au Customer Support) ⇒ 調べる (Search) ⇒ 災害用伝言板 (デモ版) (Disaster Message Board (Demo Version)).
- To view the Disaster Message Board in English, select English from the top menu of the Disaster Message Board.

- ➡ Use  to select the person you want to send mail.
- ➡ Use  to select E-mail or C-mail and then press  (Select).
 - To create an e-mail message, see "Creating and Sending E-mail Messages" on page 27. To create a C-mail message, see "Creating and Sending C-mail Messages" on page 29.

Using E-mail

To use e-mail, you need to apply for an EZweb subscription. If you did not apply for an EZweb subscription at the time of purchase, contact an au shop or the Customer Service Center. Also, before use, you need to configure initial settings.

You can send and receive e-mail with other cell phones that support e-mail, and with PCs. In addition to text messages of up to 5,000 double-byte (or 10,000 single-byte) characters, you can also send photos and movies by e-mail.

- The packet communication charge for sending and receiving e-mail applies to the amount of data sent and received.
- You can send an e-mail message to different addresses (includes To/Cc/Bcc, within 640 single-byte characters) at one time. If you turn the Addr Count Limit setting ON, you can only send to up to five addresses at one time.
- You can send up to 1,000 e-mail messages per day (a message with multiple recipients is counted as more than one message).
- Sending and receiving e-mail messages that include attachment data may take a while.

FCC Notice

This device complies with part 15 of the FCC Rules. Operation is subject to the following two conditions: (1) This device may not cause harmful interference, and (2) this device must accept any interference received, including interference that may cause undesired operation.

Note:

This equipment has been tested and found to comply with the limits for a Class B digital device, pursuant to part 15 of the FCC Rules. These limits are designed to provide reasonable protection against harmful interference in a residential installation. This equipment generates, uses, and can radiate radio frequency energy and, if not installed and used in accordance with the instructions, may cause harmful interference to radio communications. However, there is no guarantee that interference will not occur in a particular installation. If this equipment does cause harmful interference to radio or television reception, which can be determined by turning the equipment off and on, the user is encouraged to try to correct the interference by one or more of the following measures:

- Reorient or relocate the receiving antenna.
- Increase the separation between the equipment and receiver.
- Connect the equipment into an outlet on circuit different from that to which the receiver is connected.
- Consult the dealer or an experienced radio/TV technician for help and for additional suggestions.

Warning

The user is cautioned that changes or modifications not expressly approved by the manufacturer could void the user's authority to operate the equipment.

FCC RF EXPOSURE INFORMATION

Warning! Read this information before using your phone.

In August 1996, the Federal Communications Commission (FCC) of the United States, with its action in Report and Order FCC 96-326, adopted an updated safety standard for human exposure to radio frequency electromagnetic energy emitted by FCC regulated transmitters. Those guidelines are consistent with the safety standard previously set by both U.S. and international standards bodies. The design of this phone complies with the FCC guidelines and these international standards.

Body-worn Operation

This device was tested for typical body-worn operations with the back of the phone kept 0.59 inches (2 cm) from the body. To comply with FCC RF exposure requirements, a minimum separation distance of 0.59 inches (2 cm) must be maintained between the user's body and the back of the phone, including the antenna. All beltclips, holsters and similar accessories used by this device must not contain any metallic components. Body-worn accessories that do not meet these requirements may not comply with FCC RF exposure limits and should be avoided.

Turn off your phone before flying

You should turn off your phone when boarding any aircraft. To prevent possible interference with aircraft systems, U.S. Federal Aviation Administration (FAA) regulations require you to have permission from a crew member to use your phone while the plane is on the ground. To prevent any risk of interference, FCC regulations prohibit using your phone while the plane is in the air.

SAR INFORMATION

THIS MODEL PHONE MEETS THE GOVERNMENT'S REQUIREMENTS FOR EXPOSURE TO RADIO WAVES.

Your wireless phone is a radio transmitter and receiver. It is designed and manufactured not to exceed the emission limits for exposure to radiofrequency (RF) energy set by the Federal Communications Commission of the U.S. Government. These limits are part of comprehensive guidelines and establish permitted levels of RF energy for the general population. The guidelines are based on standards that were developed by independent scientific organizations through periodic and thorough evaluation of scientific studies. The standards include a substantial safety margin designed to assure the safety of all persons, regardless of age and health. The exposure standard for wireless mobile phones employs a unit of measurement known as the Specific Absorption Rate, or SAR. The SAR limit set by the FCC is 1.6 W/kg. *

Tests for SAR are conducted with the phone transmitting at its highest certified power level in all tested frequency bands. Although the SAR is determined at the highest certified power level, the actual SAR level of the phone while operating can be well below the maximum value. This is because the phone is designed to operate at multiple power levels so as to use only the power required to reach the network. In general, the closer you are to a wireless base station antenna, the lower the power output. Before a phone model is available for sale to the public, it must be tested and certified to the FCC that it does not exceed the limit established by the government adopted requirement for safe exposure. The tests are performed in positions and locations

(e.g., at the ear and worn on the body) as required by the FCC for each model. The highest SAR value for this model phone when tested for use at the ear is 0.428 W/Kg and when worn on the body, as described in this user guide, is 0.681 W/Kg. (Body-worn measurements differ among phone models, depending upon available accessories and FCC requirements). While there may be differences between the SAR levels of various phones and at various positions, they all meet the government requirement for safe exposure. The FCC has granted an Equipment Authorization for this model phone with all reported SAR levels evaluated as in compliance with the FCC RF exposure guidelines. SAR information on this model phone is on file with the FCC and can be found under the Display Grant section of <http://www.fcc.gov/oet/fccid> after searching on FCC ID: JYCCDMAPT003.

Additional information on Specific Absorption Rates (SAR) can be found on the Cellular Telecommunications Industry Association (CTIA) web-site at <http://www.wow-com.com>. * In the United States and Canada, the SAR limit for mobile phones used by the public is 1.6 watts/kg (W/kg) averaged over one gram of tissue. The standard incorporates a sub-stantial margin of safety to give additional protection for the public and to account for any variations in measurements.

FCC Hearing-Aid Compatibility (HAC)

Regulations for Wireless Devices

On July 10, 2003, the U.S. Federal Communications Commission (FCC) Report and Order in WT Docket 01-309 modified the exception of wireless phones under the Hearing Aid Compatibility Act of 1988 (HAC Act) to require digital wireless phones be compatible with hearing-aids. The intent of the HAC Act is to ensure reasonable access to telecommunications services for persons with hearing disabilities. While some wireless phones are used near some hearing devices (hearing aids and cochlear implants), users may detect a buzzing, humming, or whining noise. Some hearing devices are more immune than others to this interference noise, and phones also vary in the amount of interference they generate. The wireless telephone industry has developed a rating system for wireless phones, to assist hearing device users find phones that may be compatible with their hearing devices. Not all phones have been rated. Phones that are rated have the rating on their box or a label located on the box. The ratings are not guarantees. Results will vary depending on the user's hearing device and hearing loss. If your hearing device happens to be vulnerable to interference, you may not be able to use a rated phone successfully. Trying out the phone with your hearing device is the best way to evaluate it for your personal needs.

M-Ratings: Phones rated M3 or M4 meet FCC requirements and are likely to generate less interference to hearing devices than phones that are not labeled. M4 is the better/higher of the two ratings.

THIS PHONE HAS A HAC RATING OF M4.

Hearing devices may also be rated. Your hearing device manufacturer or hearing health professional may help you find this rating. Higher ratings mean that the hearing device is relatively immune to interference noise. The hearing aid and wireless phone rating values are then added together. A sum of 5 is considered acceptable for normal use. A sum of 6 is considered for best use.

In the above example, if a hearing aid meets the M2 level rating and the wireless phone meets the M3 level rating, the sum of the two values equal M5. This should provide the hearing aid user with "normal usage" while using their hearing aid with the particular wireless phone. "Normal usage" in this context is defined as a signal quality that is acceptable for normal operation. The M mark is intended to be synonymous with the U mark. The M and T marks are recommended by the Alliance for Telecommunications Industries Solutions (ATIS). The U marks is referenced in Section 20.19 of the FCC Rules. The HAC rating and measurement procedure are described in the American National Standards Institute (ANSI) C63.19 standard.
