Charging the headphone

This device comes with a micro USB port for charging. Use the supplied micro USB cable to connect the headphone to any standard USB port. Charging time depends on the output capacity of the USB port, but it will take averagely 2 hours for a full charge (based on a 1000mA USB port). Playback time depends on the type of music you are listening to and the volume level, but it can play up to 10 hours under normal conditions. When it is successfully being charged, the LED indicator will turn red to indicate it is in charging mode.
