Precautions

Please read the precautions carefully in order to prevent any damage. Read this user's manual and keep it in a safe place.

	Using the phone while driving a car may cause traffic accidents and may give an influence to the electronic parts in the car. If you are to use the phone while driving, make sure to use a safety device such as an ear-microphone.
	Make sure to turn off the phone while you are in an airplane or at the hospital. Using the phone in the restricted area may cause an accident of the transportation or may affect the medical devices. (Please follow the instructions of the place on use of cellular phones.)
	Using the phone where inflammable gas such as propane or gasoline erupts may cause explosion or fire. Make sure to turn off the phone at the gas station or in areas where it may cause fire or explosion.

Safety guides

	Avoid impact. Impact on the phone may cause excessive heat or fire.
	Be careful when using the phone in the rain. Be careful not to have the phone wet in the rain, and do not use the phone when lightening flashes.
	Avoid metal products. If a conductible material (aluminum foil, needle, necklace, metal chain, coin, key and etc.) meets the bottom of the battery, the bottom of the phone or the metal part of the charger instantaneously or continuously, the phone may generate excessive heat, fire, electric shock or explosion. (Do not carry or store the phone and the battery on the bag or in the pocket with metal products. The phone may be deformed, damaged or broken.)
	When using IrDA, Do not stare at IrDA window during IrDA communication. Your eyesight may fall.
	Too loud ringer~ You may be startled at sudden vibration or ringer. Set the vibration and ringer to an appropriate level. Keep your ears away from the speakers of the phone, or you may be startled or your hearing may fall at sudden ringer.
	If you have a hand strap or a neck strap attached to the phone~ You may get injured if the trap is pulled or caught by something. Be careful not to run against something or tumble down with the phone inside the pocket.
	The phone may get heated if you use the phone for a long time.
	Using the phone near a high-voltage pole may cause electric shock or explosion of the battery.

In order to use the phone for a long time,

	Keep the rubber caps plugged to protect the phone against foreign substance except when you need to remove the caps for intended purpose.
	Do not disassemble or remodel the phone at your own discretion. Please contact the authorized service center for repair.
	Keep the phone away from a magnet. Carrying or storing the phone with any magnetic material may cause malfunction. You may suffer loss of money if you lose information on the magnetic cards (credit cards, bank cards, transportation cards).
	The phone is sensitive to radio wave. The phone performance may be deteriorated if you use an unauthorized antenna or accessory, or if you place the phone on any material that may interrupt radio wave (steel desk, computer, microwave range and etc.). Do not put the phone or the battery in a microwave range. It may explode.
	Keep the phone clean. The battery may not be recharged if the metal part on the charger or the battery is stained. Wipe out the foreign substance with soft cloth or towel, and never use a chemical solution (thinner, solvent, and etc.).
	Be careful not to drop the phone. Do not move violently or run with the phone hung on your neck with ear microphone or neck strap. Do not sit on with the phone put in the rear pocket. The phone may be broken or deformed.

Avoid water, fire and damp

	Avoid water. If the phone, battery, charger or other optional accessories are wet, the label inside the product changes color, and electric shock, damage or heat may be resulted in. If the phone is wet, leave the power off, remove the battery, and contact the nearest service center.
	Watch out of fire. The phone and the battery may explode in the fire.
	Avoid excessive heat, cold weather, or where temperature changes severely. The phone and the battery left in severe heat, under direct sunray, or inside the car in summer time may result in explosion or fire. Performance and durability of the phone can be deteriorated if it is stored in low temperature. Do not place the phone in front of the air conditioner since high humidity and sudden temperature change may result in corrosion and damage.

Keep the phone away from children or pets.

	Keep the phone dry. Foreign substance or water in the phone, battery, charger or other optional accessories may result in mechanical trouble or injury of children.
	Make sure that the children should not swallow the parts including rubber caps (in stereo ear microphone and bottom contact of the phone). Teach the children how to use the phone, and check if they are using the phone properly.

Use the battery properly.

	Make sure to use the genuine battery. Using unauthorized battery may result in damage or explosion of the phone and the battery.
	Do not give impact to the battery. Damaged battery must be repaired by the authorized service engineer only. Disassembling or repairing the battery by unauthorized person may result in fire or explosion.
	Do not apply excessive force or give damage with a sharp tool. Applying excessive force or boring battery with an awl or a pin may result in fire or explosion.
	If the battery leaks, Wash your skin with running water. If the solution runs into an eye, wash the eye with clean water and see the doctor immediately.
	When not in use for a long time, If the phone is left unused with the battery installed, although the power is off, the battery may leak and disable the phone. If you don't use the phone for a long time, take the battery apart from the phone. If you use the phone again (and when you first use the phone after purchasing), charge the battery fully.
	Turn the power off first. If you remove the battery while the phone is on, the phone or the LCD screen may be damaged.
	Replace the battery. Purchase a new battery if running time reduces by half. Because the battery is a consumable part, repeated charging/discharging results in reduction of running time. Because the battery contains the recyclable metal, make sure to dispose the battery to the designated place.

Using the charger

	Check the contact points before charging the battery. If the battery is mounted on the charger with incorrect polarity, the battery can be damaged or exploded.
	Charge the battery where it is well ventilated. Covering the charger and the battery with cloth may result in fire.
	Pay attention to the power cord. Do not pull the power cord of the charger, and do not place a heavy object on the power cord. Damaged power cord may cause fire. Do not plug in the power with wet hands to prevent shock.

Storing the charger

	Do not use the phone while recharging the battery. Using the phone while recharging the battery may result in electric shock. Make sure to remove the phone from the charger.
	If you switch on the phone within 5 seconds after power off, the power key can be disabled. Wait for 5 seconds before switching on the phone.

Camera Function

1. In order to get a good photo, the object should receive more light than the background. Avoid direct fluorescent light. Take the photo with the light behind your back.
2. Hold the phone tight and the subject should not move while taking a photo. It takes time for the camera sensor to adjust exposure.
3. To get a good photo, take the photo under a bright indoor light (about 300~500Lux) or outside of a building.
4. Aim the camera to the object, and wait for a few seconds before the camera sensor is adapted to the environment. Especially in the dark, it takes 3~5 seconds.
5. Take the photo at the distance of 1.2m to get the best photo.
6. Hold the phone with both hands to prevent shaking of the camera.
7. Activate the shutter sound to minimize shaking when you press the shutter button.
8. Do not move the phone right after taking a photo. Hold the phone tight until the rename screen is displayed after you take the photo.

Q & A

Q	A
Phone
I made a phone call, only to hear beep and failed to make connection.	All the channels in the area are engaged or the phone is not connected with the base station. Press (End) and then (Send) to redial to the last dialed number.
The antenna level changes severely, and even when the antenna level is high, the phone sometimes fails to receive the signal.	If the phone is inside a building, in an underground area, inside a tunnel, near a high building or mountain, the radio wave can be interrupted.
Camera
White dots are displayed on the screen, and the scene on the screen is not clear.	The camera lens is stained with foreign substance. Wipe the lens with soft cloth. If the problem still exists, contact the nearest service center.
How can I get the better photos in the dark?	You cannot take the clear view when you taking a photo in the dark because it takes time that the camera sensor adjusts exposure automatically. If you are in the dark, wait for about 3~5 seconds after switching on the camera, and take the photo after the camera is fully adapted to the darkness.
Taking a video is stopped even if the phone has enough memory.	Because the video file is stored in the temporary memory space and then converted to the permanent memory space, the temporary memory space after the file is moved to the permanent memory is appeared as a remaining memory space.

Read this information before using your phone

In August 1996 the Federal Communication Commission (FCC) of the United States with its action in Report and Order FCC 96-326 adopted an updated safety standard for human exposure to radio frequency (RF) electromagnetic energy emitted by FCC regulated transmitters. Those guidelines are consistent with the safety standard previously set by the both U.S. and international standards bodies. The design of this phone complies with the FCC guidelines and these international standards.

Use only the supplied or an approved antenna. Unauthorized antennas, modification, or attachments could impair call quality, damage the phone, or result in violation of FCC regulations.

Do not use the phone with a damaged antenna. If a damaged antenna comes into contact with the skin, a minor burn may result. Please contact your local dealer for replacement antenna.

Body-worn Operation

This device was tested for typical body-worn operations. To maintain compliance with FCC RF exposure requirements, use only belt-clips, holsters or similar accessories that maintain a 0.6 inch (1.5 cm.) separation distance between the user's body and the back of the phone, including the antenna, whether extended or retracted. The use of belt-clips, holsters and similar accessories should not contain metallic components in its assembly. The use of accessories that do not satisfy these requirements may not comply with FCC RF exposure requirements, and should be avoided.
