Connecting the Transmitter

Connect the transmitter AC adapter to the transmitter DC power input jack and plug the adapter into any 110-120V wall outlet.

Connecting to RCA stereo jacks

Use the RCA cables to connect the AUDIO OUT jacks of your stereo, TV or other audio source to the input jacks of the wireless transmitter. Slide the power switch to "RCA."

Using Zipconnect to hook up through a headphone jack.

Pull to extend the Zipconnect cable the desired length and connect the plug to the headphone jack of your audio device or MP3 player. Slide the power switch to "Zipconnect."

WARNING: DO NOT connect the RCA plugs to a speaker output on the audio source. Using the speaker output of an audio source to connect the transmitter, could permanently damage the transmitter. It is designed to work with RCA-type line/variable outputs only.

Connecting the Speakers and Subwoofer

Plug the speakers into the speaker jacks at the rear of the subwoofer unit.

Plug the subwoofer power cord into a standard wall outlet.

Press POWER to switch the subwoofer on. The blue power LED will light to indicate that the subwoofer has power.

Tuning the subwoofer (first time)

Turn the audio source on and make sure that it is playing.

Turn the transmitter on.

Turn the subwoofer on.

Press and hold the AUTO TUNE button until the audio source can be clearly heard and the reception is clear.

Volume Control Options

Use the volume knob on the transmitter to control overall volume and on the subwoofer to control the bass intensity.

It is possible to lower the transmitter volume and use only the controls for the audio device connected to the speaker system. This is particularly useful for devices with remote controls.

Additional Information

If there is no sound coming from the system:

Confirm that the transmitter, speakers and woofer are switched on. (The power indicator light should be lit.)

Check that the audio source (stereo, TV, etc.) is turned on and providing sound as it normally should.

Check that the audio source, transmitter, woofer and speaker volume are turned up.

Confirm that the RCA plugs are correctly connected to the audio out jacks on the source.

Speaker Mounts

Mounting brackets are included for use with the speakers. Unscrew and remove the table stand brackets from the back of the speakers.

Secure the wall brackets to the wall. (It is important that the bracket screws be affixed to a stud in the wall or that proper mounting hardware is purchased and used to secure the brackets and speakers.)

Cover the screws (if desired) using the plastic covers provided in the package.

Attach the speakers to the wall mount.

The subwoofer cannot be wall mounted and should be placed on the floor or very low in the same room as the speakers.

Note: Always unplug the speaker power adapter from the wall outlet while mounting the speakers.

Changing the Speaker Angle

Press and hold the silver button on the wall mount to allow the speaker angle to be changed to any of the seven speaker position options. Release the button to lock the position.
