FCC ID: H9PWSAP5030.

Symbol Technologies designs, manufacturers and supplies product into International Markets. The User Guide for the WSAP5030 is Generic and therefore covers all the intended International markets that Symbol Technologies will supply into.

The user Guide includes accessories that may not be available in all markets. To control this situation and to ensure only approved accessories are supplied into the particular country, Symbol has a release process.

Products can only be shipped into a country when released. A release will only be granted when approval has been gained in the particular country for that particular accessory.

To further ensure only approved products are shipped and operated, Symbol Regulatory are part of and required to "sign-off" a products for release. This will ensure only approved products will be shipped and operated.

I trust the information I have provided will enable an FCC Grant to be obtained.
