Overview

It is widely regarded that social science research enhances our understanding of the society and its functioning, provides policy inputs for socio-economic development and generates ideas and information that could be used in teaching and research. Thus, social science research renders vital services to the society and the country.

India has a long and rich tradition of social science teaching and research. Takshashila, Nalanda, Vikramashila, Valabhi, Pushpagiri and Somapura universities flourished as global centres of learning in different parts of India. The subjects taught in these universities included Vedas, Vedanta, Ayurveda, medicine and surgery, mathematics, astronomy, physics, metallurgy, civil engineering, architecture, philosophy, grammar, agriculture, economics, commerce, politics, state craft, military education, literature, craft etc. and these universities could set very high standards of teaching, learning and research for scholars from across the world. This system of Indian education produced scholars of great stature such as Aryabhatta, Bhaskaracharya, Mahaviracharya, Charaka, Susruta, Baudhayan, Chanakya, Brahmagupta, Panini, Patanjali, Nagarjuna, Pingala, Gargi, Kanad, Varahamihira, Thiruvalluvar and so on.

Social science teaching and research in the country, however, made a formal beginning with the introduction of modern university system in the second half of the 19th century as the University of Mumbai (1857), University of Madras (1857), University of Calcutta (1857) and Allahabad University (1875) came into existence. The real break through came only after Independence with the rapid expansion of higher education system as a part of the planned socio-economic development. As the country's development process threw up numerous and diverse problems that required extensive research and analysis, Government of India established a Committee for Social Science Research under the chairmanship of Professor V.K.R.V. Rao in 1965 to review the social science research scenario in the country and make recommendations to accelerate its progress. This led to the establishment of the Indian Council of Social Science Research (ICSSR) in 1969 to encourage, promote and fund social science research in the country.

The ICSSR is an autonomous body under the Ministry of Human Resource Development, Government of India and a premier organisation with 24 Research Institutes (grant-in-aid), five Recognised Research Institutes and six Regional Centres located in different parts of the country.

The ICSSR's aims and objectives as spelt out in its Memorandum of Association (MoA) are the following:

- To review and survey the progress of Social Science Research and advise the Government on policy issues;

- To fund and promote Social Science Research in Universities/Colleges/Research Institutes;
- To award Doctoral, Post-doctoral, Senior and National Fellowships to researchers and faculties;
- To award Minor, Major and Collaborative Research Projects to researchers and faculties;
- To fund National and International seminars and conferences to disseminate social science research findings;
- To support training and capacity building programmes for young researchers and faculties;
- To provide international travel and data collection grant to scholars and faculties;
- To encourage international collaboration in social science research with well recognized foreign research funding agencies;
- To fund publication of journals and books in social science research and also strengthen professional social science associations/organizations;
- To provide library, documentation, data and online services for social science research;and
- To indicate periodic themes in neglected and new critical areas of research.

During the last about 51 years of its establishment, the ICSSR has been actively promoting and funding social science research in the country. It provides regular maintenance and development grant to its Research Institutes (on matching grant basis) to study national and regional research issues from inter-disciplinary perspectives. It also fully supports its six Regional Centres which represent the Council within their respective regions with a view to spread the programmes and schemes of the ICSSR. Under the International Collaboration Programme, ICSSR has signed bilateral collaborative agreements with 12 countries including the United Kingdom, Japan, South Africa, Germany, South Korea, Switzerland, Sri Lanka, Vietnam, Netherlands, Sweden, Taiwan, Bosnia & Herzegovina, and Cultural Exchange Programmes with three countries, namely, France, China and Thailand to engage in activities such as exchange of scholars, joint seminars, research projects, publications, exchange of books and periodicals. The ICSSR also participates in the activities of the international social science organizations like International Science Council (ISC), Science Council of Asia (SCA) and UNESCO etc. The Council has been identified as the nodal agency for participating in the activities of the UNESCO's MOST (Management of Social Transformation) programme and its implementation.

Since its inception, the ICSSR has granted 6719 Major, Minor and Collaborative Research Projects, awarded 8,658 Doctoral (6515 Full-term and 2143 Short-term) Fellowships, 2574 Post-doctoral Fellowships, 795 Senior Fellowships and 174 National Fellowships. It has sponsored 4144 National and 1130 International seminars/conferences, funded 2144 scholars for attending seminars abroad and 458 scholars for data collection abroad. The ICSSR has sponsored 1029 Training & Capacity Building Programmes for young faculties and researchers, provided financial assistance to 1853 scholars for publication of their Doctoral Theses/Projects/Fellowship Reports/Conference Proceedings, financially supported 1008 social science journals and 374 professional associations involved in social science research activities. It has also conducted Six rounds of surveys of current status of research in some social science disciplines, namely, Economics, Political Science, Sociology and Social Anthropology, Geography, and Psychology in the country. These surveys have also been published by ICSSR in collaboration with reputed publishers like Sage, Pearson and Oxford University Press (OUP) etc. The ICSSR used to publish prestigious social science research journal – ‘The Indian Social Science Review’ which was discontinued in 2011. Now, we are restarting the journal; and papers have been invited for the same and are being reviewed by experts of eminence. Apart from this, the ICSSR provides research services like library, documentation, data and e-resources to several thousand social science scholars across the country through its National Social Science Documentation Centre (NASSDOC).

The ICSSR has been offering its research-based advice, whenever needed, to the Government of India on policy relevant issues and has contributed in the Newton-Vivekanand programme with the U.K. (2016). It has also carried out studies for various Ministries of Government of India including Ministry of Social Justice & Empowerment, Ministry of Minority Affairs, Ministry of Home Affairs, and the Ministry of Science and Technology. In addition, there is considerable presence of ICSSR studies and references in various policy documents and reports of the Ministries and the Planning Commission (erstwhile). Moreover, the Member Secretary and Council members have regularly participated and contributed to the deliberations of other government organisations involved in policy making or implementation such as the University Grants Commission, Indian Statistical Institute, Indian Council of World Affairs, Indian Institute of Advanced Study, Scientific and Industrial Research Organisation etc. Many officers of the ICSSR have also given their presentations on various schemes of the Council.

As the ICSSR has completed 51 years of its existence, it faces significant challenges alongside opportunities while giving direction to social science research in India and actively participating in social science research at global level. According to a University Grants Commission Report (November 2018), there are 882 Universities in the country (48 Central Universities, 392 State Universities, 317 Private Universities and 125 Deemed to be Universities). Similarly, as per the data drawn from International Standard Series Number (ISSN) and Ulrich International Periodical Directory data books, there were 2131 social science journals published in India during the period 2000-2015.

The ICSSR Review Report (2007) mentions that while the scale and range of social science research in the country has expanded, the quality of research output of a majority of institutions as well as their contribution to a better understanding of socio-economic processes and shaping public policy, have fallen short of expectations. The quality also needs to be improved considering that the precious resources are being spent on research. The research quality constitutes a major challenge for all spheres of research in the country, including social science.

Moreover, with the introduction of National Institutional Ranking Framework in 2015, there is a greater focus on research as the rankings significantly depends on the research orientation and related output of the institutes or universities. The entire issue has raised the concerns of the policy makers to adopt newer strategies and best global practices for enhancing the research quality and culture to improve the global rankings of the Indian institutes and universities. Thus, all institutions entrusted with the task of promoting and supporting researches like the ICSSR face this key challenge of promoting advanced, novel and cutting-edge researches to help institutes and universities in improving their national and global rankings, and also build a robust research culture in the country. There are enormous opportunities that place the ICSSR in an advantageous position to play a leading role in social science research, at country as well as international levels.

The 21st century is widely said to belong to Asia where India, Japan and China are perceived as major actors. India and China have already been emerging at a rapid growth rate in the last three decades. The end of the Cold War and the growing impact of globalisation also require India to redefine its position and role at the regional and global levels. Ever since economic liberalisation of the 1990s, India's global presence has been steadily rising. India is now one of the fastest growing economies for more than two and a half decades, and it is world's fifth largest economy after the United States, China, Japan, Germany and United Kingdom (in nominal GDP terms). In next few years, it is projected to be among the largest three economies of the world. There are many issues that constitute common research concerns of the world, and at the same time there are a number of country and policy specific research concerns that nations are interested in getting examined with a view to understanding the existing problems and finding their possible solutions. Rising population, national security, development pattern, water resources, climate change, sustainability, migration, urban infrastructure, inclusiveness etc. could be some of India's specific concerns. Many times, nations converge in terms of their common problems and so, the research concerns.

India's aspiration to become one of the global leaders in knowledge creation rests on its research capabilities and infrastructure. The researches ultimately have to and must serve the society and should contribute towards policy formulation and its objective assessment. At the same time, the modern researches are crossing the tight compartments of disciplines and moving towards inter and multi-disciplinarity, where many disciplines combine their resources to achieve the common objective of larger welfare. In this respect, the ICSSR's role acquires a greater significance as we have been promoting such inter or multi-disciplinary researches. Even developments in science and technology require a social science perspective for greater acceptability of new developments and preparing society to accept and adapt to those developments. Fortunately, all these aspects of robust research and innovation base have been well captured by the Draft National Education Policy, 2019 which underlines "Knowledge creation and research are well known to be centrally critical to growing and sustaining a large and vibrant economy, uplifting society, and continuously inspiring a nation to achieve even greater heights" "A robust ecosystem of research is perhaps more important than ever with the rapid changes occurring in the world today....."

India is viewed as a major stakeholder in global political, economic and technological environment, and therefore its research output is expected to have a larger share in global quality researches. New researches are leading to many paradigm shifts and are challenging colonial concepts and theories. There is also a greater emphasis in the country on analyzing our problems based on our own socio-political and economic conditions instead of seeing them through unquestioned western prism and conditions. Such researches are better placed to solve various local or community and country specific problems and suggest innovative solutions and alternatives.

The ICSSR aspires to give a Big Push to social science research in India with the support of government and other research organisations. India's high growth rate of social science publications at international level (Scopus statistics) is a strong indicator of India's role now and also in years to come. Greatly conscious of its new role, the ICSSR has undertaken some vital steps in this regard. Now it is focusing on both, quantitative expansion of its programmes and schemes and delivery of quality research output. During the year 2019-20, the ICSSR has provided financial assistance to several hundred scholars, faculties and research organisations to encourage and promote quality social science research in the country as given in Table No.1.1.

Research Promotion

Promotion of research in social science disciplines is the most important task assigned to Indian Council of Social Science Research.

The ICSSR has been doing this through its various programmes and schemes such as funding of Minor, Major and Collaborative Research Projects; providing Doctoral, Post-doctoral, Senior and National Fellowships to scholars and faculties; awarding seminar and conference grants to disseminate social science research findings; sponsoring training and capacity building programmes for young researchers and faculties; providing international travel and data collection grants to scholars and faculties; encouraging international collaborations in research with national level funding agencies abroad; funding publication of research based journals and books, strengthening professional social science associations/organizations through infrastructural grants; providing library, documentation, data and online literature services to social science researchers and institutions etc.

The ICSSR has identified the following broad disciplines of study, within the domain of social sciences:

- (a) Economics
- (b) Sociology and Social Anthropology
- (c) Political Science/Public Administration
- (d) International Studies
- (e) Social Geography and Population Studies

- (f) Commerce and Management
- (g) Social Psychology
- (h) Education
- (i) Social Linguistics/Socio-Cultural Studies
- (j) Law/International Law
- (k) National Security & Strategic Studies
- (l) Other allied Social Science disciplines such as Library Science, Social Work, Media Studies, Modern Social History, Health Studies, Gender Studies, Environmental Studies, Diaspora Studies, Area Studies, Socio-Sanskrit & Cultural Studies etc. to promote interdisciplinary and multi-disciplinary research.

Research Projects

Research Projects, both individual and institutional, are an important way to promote social science research in the country. The research projects may belong to any of the social science disciplines or may be interdisciplinary or multi-disciplinary in nature. The specific objectives of the programme are: a) to support high quality independent programme of research; b) to provide opportunities for training to future researchers; c) to contribute to the development of new theoretical or methodological approaches to research; d) to maintain and sustain various disciplinary research activities; e) to foster and promote collaborative, interdisciplinary and multi-disciplinary research activities among researchers in social science; and f) to facilitate communication of research outputs among the academic community and also to provide key inputs to policy makers.

The ICSSR awards two types of Research Projects to Indian scholars: (a) Major and Minor Research Projects which were earlier known as Research Projects (Responsive) (b) Research Programmes which were previously known as Research Projects (Sponsored).

Major and Minor Research Projects

Major and Minor Projects are basically demand-driven as under this scheme, the ICSSR provides grant to scholars to conduct research largely on the topics of their choice. The year-wise position of research projects sanctioned since its inception and reports received till 31st March, 2020 is furnished in Table 2.1.

During the year 2019-20, ICSSR approved 320 Major and Minor Research Projects and received the final reports of 236 research projects which were sanctioned in earlier years. The total expenditure incurred in 2019-20 for Research Projects was ₹935.17 lakh (₹736.84 under General, ₹ 137.26 under SC and ₹61.07 under ST Category). The grant includes expenditure on Major/Minor Research Projects and Research Programme.

Research Programmes

Research Programmes are a series of research studies undertaken simultaneously or sequentially on themes of significance and priority in policy and social science research. These studies, identified by the ICSSR from time to time, are expected to be inter-disciplinary or multidisciplinary or inter-institutional in nature for critical understanding of new social science research issues & areas and develop deeper understanding in terms of theory, methodology, new findings and policy outcomes. However, high impact studies that

The scheme of Research Projects (Sponsored) or Research Programme was launched in 2011-12 with the All India Report on Educational Status of Scheduled Castes & Scheduled Tribes and De-notified Tribes (DNT) for various states. The year-wise position of research programmes sanctioned since 2011-12, projects cancelled/withdrawn/closed and reports received till 31st March, 2020 is given in Table 2.2. During the year 2019-20, 47 Research Programme were awarded and the final reports of 42 sponsored research projects sanctioned in earlier years were received.

Research Fellowships

In order to provide research opportunities to young, senior and established social scientists and to engage them in full-time research on important themes of their choice, three categories of fellowships, namely, National Fellowship, Senior Fellowship and Post-

Doctoral Fellowship are offered to scholars who are at various levels in their profession.

National Fellowships

ICSSR National Fellowships are aimed at providing opportunities to eminent Indian social scientists to engage themselves in full-time researches on important themes of their choice or to write books based on their research works that have potential to lead to the advancement of knowledge in various social science disciplines. The ICSSR has so far awarded 174 National Fellowships. During the year, 04 National Fellowships were awarded and 02 final reports pertaining to previous years were received. The relevant details are given in Table 2.3:

Senior Fellowships

Senior Fellowships are awarded to outstanding Indian social scientists for conducting full time research on themes and issues of national and social concerns proposed by the applicants. These studies are expected to contribute to

Post-Doctoral Fellowships

Post-doctoral Fellowships are awarded to young Indian social scientists with a high potential and promise for conducting full time research on specific themes and issues proposed by the applicants. These studies are expected to contribute to theoretical and conceptual advancement in different disciplines, help to generate field work based empirical data and contribute in policy making. The ICSSR has so far awarded 2574 Post-doctoral Fellowships. During the year 2019-20, 269 Post-doctoral Fellowships were awarded and 204 final reports relating to previous years were received. The relevant details are given in Tables 2.5.

During the year, the total budget allocated for National/Senior/Post-doctoral Fellowship Schemes was ₹ 1849.62 lakh (₹ 1486.16 lakh for General, ₹ 277 lakh for SC and ₹ 86.46 lakh for ST Categories), which was fully utilized.

The ICSSR envisages the following Perspective Plan in respect of Fellowships:

1. Looking at the number of applications being received by the ICSSR from all over India and to attract sincere research scholars, ICSSR envisions that there is a need to relook at the amount of fellowship, duration and their number.
2. Digitalization of the guidelines by making them interactive, providing the facilities of online applications, acknowledgment of receipt of applications, status of applications, status of the ongoing fellowships, etc.
3. Releasing fellowships only in the accounts attached with PFMS (ICSSR 0877) instead of RTGS or cheques.
4. To ensure publication of its Outstanding/Excellent/Very Good fellowship reports for wider dissemination of research findings and benefit of the social science research community.

Further, the following steps have been initiated to strengthen the Fellowship Programme based on the feedback from the secretariat and the fellows:

Strong Award (Selection) Process:

Currently, ICSSR is following a three-tier process of selection in which initially the applications are scrutinized by a Screening Committee. At the second stage, the proposals which are found eligible are evaluated by subject expert committees that assign grade and score to each proposal. Thereafter, based on the availability of seats, the applicants are invited for personal interaction/presentation before an Expert Committee in the order of merit. It is anticipated that the scholars selected through such a rigorous process would certainly produce high quality research work.

Streamlining the Process of Progress Monitoring:

The scholars are required to submit the periodic progress reports. In order to ensure that, a well-structured proforma has been developed that covers various research aspects and stages. It gives a fairly good idea about the actual progress of the research work undertaken by the scholar, helps the scholar stick to his/her plan of research and thus, assists him or her in timely completion of the study.

Motivating Research Publications:

Guidelines have been changed since last year to motivate scholars to produce at least two research papers/articles in reputed journals during the course of their research work. The scholars are also asked to present paper(s) in the conferences and seminars in India or outside India to get greater exposure in related areas of research.

Streamlining the Evaluation Process: In the past, the final reports under different fellowships, barring doctoral fellowship, were evaluated by subject experts. But this practice of expert evaluation of final reports was discontinued. Again, the process of expert evaluation has not only been revived, but also streamlined in the interest of objectivity. Based on best international practices, a proforma for the 'Evaluation Report' has been prepared covering all aspects of a good research work in order to seek an objective evaluation report with explicit suggestions from the subject experts. The comments and suggestions of the expert are conveyed to the scholars to improve or revise his/her report (wherever required). The revised report is again sent to the expert for re-evaluation and final comments.

Dissemination of Research Findings: ICSSR has introduced a practice of taking second opinion on outstanding, excellent or very good reports in order to take those further for publication. In this regard, 3-4 meetings are held with reputed publishers for publication of such final research reports. Many of these reports are under publication.

Addressing the Problem of Default: A scholar is required to submit the final report of the fellowship or project within three to four months of the duration of fellowship or project. However, in many cases, the reports were not submitted or delayed much beyond acceptable time limit. The concerned Division continues to follow up with such scholars by writing to them, their supervisors and Vice-Chancellors/Registrars/Directors of the affiliating institution requesting them to ensure submission of the report of their fellowship without such delay. Efforts are also made to contact the scholars through mail or phone to expedite the submission of reports. As a result, we have been able to reduce the pending cases quite considerably.

Doctoral Fellowships

ICSSR provides financial assistance to selected registered Ph.D. scholars to pursue and complete their doctoral thesis in social science disciplines. The main aim is to provide financial support to scholars to enable them to focus full time on their research work and bring out a quality research output in the form of their Ph.D. theses and publications.

ICSSR is providing Doctoral Fellowships under its 'Centrally-Administered Doctoral Fellowship Scheme' and 'Institutional Doctoral Fellowship Scheme' in accordance with the prescribed guidelines. Under 'Centrally-Administered Scheme', the fellowships are awarded and monitored directly by the ICSSR and the concerned doctoral fellows are affiliated to a university or college or research institute. Under the 'Institutional Fellowship Scheme', the doctoral fellows are affiliated to and monitored by an ICSSR sponsored/recognized Research Institute. The Call for the Centrally-Administered Fellowships is given by ICSSR itself and the fellowships are awarded after screening and evaluation by Expert Committees. The call for 'Institutional Doctoral Fellowships' is given by the respective ICSSR Research Institute and after preliminary scrutiny, the short-listed applications are sent to ICSSR for evaluation by its experts and finalization of awards. Institutional Doctoral Fellowships essentially involve a tenure of two years on full time basis.

Within ICSSR's 'Centrally-Administered Doctoral Fellowship Programme', there are following three types of schemes:

1. The Full-term Doctoral Fellowships are awarded for a period of two years or till submission of the thesis with the university/research institute, whichever is earlier.

2. The Short-term Doctoral Fellowships are awarded for six months to support scholars who are at final stage of completing their doctoral work.
3. Contingency Grant is a consolidated grant for meeting expenses on thesis completion and it is provided to the scholars who have not received any other fellowship.

Centrally Administered Doctoral Fellowships, 2019-20

The ICSSR invited applications for 'ICSSR Centrally-Administered Doctoral Fellowships' for the year 2019-20 through online mode, by placing a Call for Applications on its website and other media in the last week of June 2019. In response, the Research Fellowship Division received a total of 2,896 applications for its three schemes under the 25 broad disciplines of social sciences. Out of which, 2,722 applicants applied for the regular Full-term Fellowships, 129 for Short-term Fellowships and 45 for Contingency Grant. After careful scrutiny of applications for eligibility by the Screening Committee, the 2,819 applications of eligible candidates were evaluated by the relevant Expert Committees. Finally, 450 Centrally-Administered Full-term Fellowships were initially awarded including 348 to General category candidates, 68 to Scheduled Caste and 34 to Scheduled Tribe categories.

In addition to this, 57 applicants were selected following similar procedure of selection for Short-term Fellowships and 17 for Contingency Grant. The total committed expenditure on the 524 new awards of Centrally Administered Doctoral Fellowships was ₹ 2424.72 Lakh.

Future Perspective

ICSSR shall continue its endeavour to support and encourage meritorious Ph.D scholars to pursue their doctoral research and provide quality research output through their theses and high quality publications.

The programme seeks to attract the best talent for fellowships following a rigorous selection process. In this pursuit, ICSSR shall continue to particularly focus on the relevance of the proposed research while taking into consideration the specific contributions that a study proposes in terms of generating data or knowledge and its implications on policy formulation or evaluation and future researches in that area.

ICSSR intends to enhance the number, duration and amount of the fellowship, especially in view of the fact that a large number of applications are being received every year and the rate of selection is just around 15-16%. It is expected to encourage promising post-graduates to take up doctoral studies and publish in high impact journals. ICSSR also intends to support publication of outstanding or excellent Ph.D. works through highly reputed national/international publishers. The objective is to facilitate and encourage young scholars for building better research capacities, and participation in research activities.

National and International Seminars/Conferences

Sponsoring/funding Seminars/Conferences in India is one of the major activities of ICSSR to promote deliberations on issues of high importance in social science research. They provide opportunities to researchers and academicians to exchange views and research findings, discuss important research questions on policy relevant issues, and generate academic research reports on important social problems. Although the Council itself organises a few seminars, most of its support is in the form of partial financial assistance to academic institutions for organising national and international seminars or conferences.

During 2019-20, ICSSR received 508 proposals for organizing national/international seminars/conferences, from all across the country, of which 321 proposals were selected for funding by the Expert Committees. This included 94 international and 227 national seminar proposals involving a total expenditure of ₹378.37 lakh. The list of seminars approved may be seen at Appendix-5. Further, the year-wise details about the seminars funded by the ICSSR since its inception may be seen in Table No 2.8.

Training and Capacity Building Programme

The basic requirement for a high-quality research in Social Science is the training in the science and art of doing research. While the philosophical basis of social science research is common to all disciplines of social sciences, different subjects have evolved their own theoretical frameworks and discipline specific techniques of research. However, scholars engaging themselves in interdisciplinary or multi-disciplinary research need to familiarize themselves with the research methodologies applied in disciplines other than their own in which they are trained. Moreover, from the stage of identification of research problem to methodology and finally, reporting and analysis of findings and also publication of these findings, there are several aspects in which a good researcher has to refine his/her skills. Therefore, the ICSSR supports and sponsors Research Methodology and Capacity Building Programmes in Universities and Research Institutes.

The ICSSR provides grants to the social science faculties for organizing Research Methodology and Capacity Building Programmes for young researchers and faculties in various social science disciplines, which may include training in multi-disciplinary areas and research tools. The Programme is divided into the following two categories:

(A) Research Methodology Course (RMC)

The aim of the course is to enhance the methodological and writing skills of the PDF/ Ph.D./M.Phil. scholars and develop their potentials as future faculties or social science researchers.

(B) Capacity Building Programme (CBP)

The objective of this programme is to expose the young faculties, mainly Assistant Professors, in social science disciplines to the latest advances in their subjects and also to improve their capacity in understanding of methodology and writing skills.

Since 1971 when the programme was first conceptualised and till 2019-20, 1029 Research Methodology and Capacity Building Programmes have been funded by the ICSSR. During the year under report, a total of 233 proposals for both Research Methodology Course and Capacity Building Programme (RMC- 145 and CBP- 88) were received and placed before the Expert Committees for evaluation. The Committees had approved 67 proposals, 47 under Research Methodology Programme and 20 under Capacity Building Programme with a total expenditure of ₹252.78 lakh. The lists of Research Methodology Course and Capacity Building Courses approved during the year may also be seen at Appendix-6

The details about RMC and CBP courses organised/funded by the ICSSR is given in Table 2.9

Future Perspective

Short-term Training Course to impart highly focused training to young scholars in research writing, data processing and computer applications for lesser number of days involving reduced financial support is being introduced apart from the usual ten-day RMC and two weeks CBP.

Research Survey and Publications

Publication & Research Survey Programme is another major activity of the ICSSR through which it disseminates important research outputs produced both within and outside the Council. Under its publication programme, the Council used to publish its research journal 'The Indian Social Science Review' which was discontinued in 2009, but the Council has decided to restart the journal to publish high quality research papers resulting from its own supported research activities and also the research output from outside.

Besides, the Council also provides grants to (a) Indian nationals for publication of their Doctoral Theses, Project/Fellowship Reports, Monographs and Seminar/Workshop Proceedings in the areas of social science and (b) Professional associations/organisations of social scientists including universities, colleges and research institutes for publication or continuing with their research journal(s). It also provides ad-hoc grants to professional associations/organisations of social scientists for maintenance and developmental activities.

So far, the ICSSR has published 1853 books, supported 1008 associations/organisations for publication of their research journals and supported 374 associations/organisations for maintenance & development activities. During the year 2019-20, 25 doctoral theses and research reports were published with ICSSR grant involving a total expenditure of ₹13.88 lakh. Similarly, 33 professional organizations/associations of social scientists received ICSSR grant of ₹29.25 lakh for publication of their journals and seven organisations received grant amounting to ₹13.50 lakh for their maintenance and infrastructural development.

The details of published books, grants given to professional associations/organisations grants for publication of research journals and also for development is given at Appendix 7 and Table 2.10

Moreover, since inception, the Council has undertaken the task of surveying research developments in chosen disciplines of social science through its programme of 'Surveys of Research'. The core objective of the surveys is to have a comprehensive overview of research undertaken during a specified period, involving stock-taking of what has been achieved in a particular social science discipline or area in terms of theory, methodology, empirical evidence and the gaps which need to be

ICSSR Regional Centres

The ICSSR Regional Centres were established as part of the Council's programme of decentralising administration, broad-basing social science research and involving social science institutions in different regions of the country for promoting social science research. Their main objectives of a regional centre were defined as follows:

- Represent the ICSSR within the region and spread the message and the programmes of the ICSSR to social scientists in the region;
- Bring research ideas and problems of the social scientists of the region to the notice of the ICSSR for possible action;
- Bring the social scientists of the region close to ICSSR for promoting social science research within the region; and
- Serve as a link between the social scientists of the region and the national and international community of social scientists.

Activities

- Promoting documentation and bibliographical work in the regional languages;
- Organizing seminars/workshops/conferences in the region;
- Organizing lectures by distinguished scholars;
- Assisting regional professional associations of social scientists and social science journals in the regional languages;
- Providing low-cost accommodation (wherever possible) to scholars/students visiting a regional centre for library or field work;

- Awarding study grant to scholars for visiting libraries and institutions for academic work;
- Providing photocopying facilities to scholars, especially photocopies of selected articles from journals etc.; and
- Any other activity that may promote social science research in the region and/or any such activity that may be delegated by the ICSSR to a centre.

Regional Centres have developed infrastructure and research support facilities over the years under the auspices of ICSSR and the host university/institute. These include hostel/guest house facilities, library space, conference halls, seminar rooms and reprographic facilities etc.

ICSSR Research Institutes

The ICSSR provides maintenance and development grant to 24 Research Institutes. Sponsoring of Research Institutes outside the scope of the University Grants Commission has been one of the major endeavours of the Council in enlarging the base of social science knowledge, improving the quality of research and promoting an interdisciplinary perspective. These institutes constitute important instruments for implementing the Council's policy of spread of research talent and building up of research capabilities in the different regions of the country, particularly in the areas where social science research was or has not been well developed.

The Research Institutes have established close links with the scholars in the region as well as elsewhere through various activities such as seminars, workshops, training and consultancy programmes. Some of the institutes are closely associated with national and state level planning and development agencies and have, thus, strengthened the links between research and policy making.

Each institute determines its own direction of research, which includes a wide spectrum of subjects related to agricultural and rural development, industrial structure and growth, income distribution and poverty, employment and wages, inter-regional differences in levels of development, education, health, nutrition, problems of weaker sections of society including women, energy, technology, ecology and environment, and social, cultural and institutional aspects of development. Thus, research studies have generated substantial empirical knowledge of the structure of Indian economy, polity and society and their dynamics both at the national and regional levels.

During the last five years, the institutes have completed 1335 research projects, while 1689 are continuing at various stages. These cover a wide spectrum of issues relating to areas that are already mentioned above. What is more significant in these efforts is that they are not only interdisciplinary in nature but also focused on regional and local problems. In this process, they have become centres of research for the region's specific issues and have immensely contributed towards awareness of the nature of development problems and potential of the country as a whole. In terms of publications, the institutes have brought out 679 books & reports and 863 working papers during the last five years.

Another important activity, that has been given importance by the Council is training of young social scientists by the research institutes through M.Phil. and Ph.D. programmes, workshops and seminars. During the last five years, 202 Ph.Ds have been produced and 2469 scholars have been working on their Ph.D. The Council can justifiably take pride in its role of promoting the research and training efforts made by the research institutes. A total of 306 projects were completed in these institutes during the year under report. The total number of ongoing studies at the end of the year was 337.

Research institutes disseminate the results of their research studies in the form of published books, mimeographs, working/occasional papers etc. During the year under report, the number of books/ reports published was 154, monographs/mimeographs was 165 and working/occasional papers was 203. The number of research papers published was 542.

The institutes also undertake training of young social scientists and help fresh researchers in designing and conducting their research. To this end, doctoral fellowships have been provided to these institutes. Some of the institutes have been supporting in teaching and training programmes for M.Phil. and Ph.D. students. In addition, as per the Council's policy, they participate in postgraduate teaching, research guidance in the universities and also involve the university teachers in their research programmes. During the year, 475 scholars were working under the guidance of the faculties of the research institutes, 50 were awarded Ph.D. degrees and 39 scholars submitted their doctoral dissertations. International Collaboration

Promoting social science research through international collaboration is one of the major approaches followed by the ICSSR. Under this programme, the Council provides opportunity to both Indian and foreign scholars to interact, learn, research and contribute to social science in India and abroad. The Council undertakes several important activities under the programme which include bilateral and multilateral collaborations with foreign funding councils and social science organisations, providing financial assistance to Indian scholars for presenting papers in international conferences & data collection abroad etc.

The ICSSR has established strong bilateral social science collaborative agreements with its counterparts abroad. Besides, the Council is one of the implementing agencies of the Cultural Exchange Programme and Educational Exchange Programme of the Government of India with other countries.

Our crucial task is to promote and fund innovative, interdisciplinary/multi-disciplinary and policy relevant social science research in the country and thus, lead the way in which social science research is to be shaped and strengthened in India which also incorporates collaborative research with similar Councils or agencies abroad. Its vision is to nurture, train and build capacity of social scientists through a comprehensive, challenging and innovative training in research.

The ICSSR in its endeavor to encourage dialogue and discussion on important issues of social science relevance provides financial assistance to organize national & international conferences/seminars in India. The ICSSR's 'Seminar Grant Scheme' aims at facilitating research in discipline specific areas of social science as well as in interdisciplinary areas.

The International Collaboration Programme of the ICSSR provides an opportunity to both Indian and foreign scholars in the field of social sciences to interact and research. Financial assistance is also provided to Indian social scientists, who have been invited to present and contribute paper at seminars/conferences abroad. The ICSSR also provides financial assistance to social scientists who have a plan to visit abroad for the purpose of data collection or consulting archival material in connection with their research work.

The ICSSR has emerged, over the years, as a premier social science research organization in India with a highly visible international presence. Activities relating to promoting academic links among social scientists of India and other countries of the world have been the prime task of the International Collaboration Division. The Division, on behalf of the Council, leads programmes of collaboration and joint research with several countries and organizations.

International Collaborations

While the ICSSR is continuing its cooperation with the existing programmes of different countries like Vietnam Academy of Social Science

Broad-basing ICSSR through Interdisciplinary and Trans-disciplinary Collaborations

In India, there are scientific, medical and agricultural councils, which too have international collaborations. The ICSSR is developing programmes which would have stronger and deeper interface between society and science through bilateral or multilateral agreements with research organisations like DST, ICMR, DBT, ICAR etc. During the year, the ICSSR in collaboration with Indian Institute of Management, Trichy has organized a “Conclave on Re-defining Management Research in India” in which many Directors of IIMs and resource persons in the field of Management participated in the Conclave. Based on its success, the ICSSR is planning to collaborate with IITs and NITs of the country to have joint workshops and seminars. Similarly, the ICSSR plans to have collaborative arrangements with National Law Universities of India (NLUs). A meeting in this regard has already been held.

There is a constant move to project a strong innovative role of the ICSSR through new programmes & activities.

Bilateral Collaborative Programme

The ICSSR has signed ‘Bilateral Collaborative Programmes’ with parallel organisations of several countries to implement activities such as exchange of scholars, joint seminars, joint projects, joint publications, exchange of books and periodicals, etc. The Council also plans to invite eminent foreign scholars to visit India for delivering lectures under its scheme of “Visit of Distinguished Scholars”. Impactful Policy Research in Social Science (IMPRESS) Scheme

Every nation, at all points of time, aspires to witness encouraging developments in all dimensions of its life which include economic, social, political, cultural, educational and other dimensions. These aspirations have driven mankind to assess the needs of the society and innovate accordingly. The very process of evolution suggests how mankind has faced problems and challenges at every successive stage of development and attempted to overcome these difficulties and adversities through its creativity, innovativeness and advancement of new techniques and tools. Thus, the task of nation-building and progress of the society remain ever continuing.

Many scientists and researchers believe that nation building is an outcome of developments in science & technology or in capital formation. This view gained prominence in almost all major countries of the world which has led to larger parts of their societies failing to match the swiftness of developments in science & technology. Hence, a number of issues pertaining to development gaps, imbalances, poverty, malnutrition, exploitation of various kinds, inequality, tension, stress, violence, discrimination, security etc. have emerged. These issues have acted and continue to act as impediments to the very process of potential development and well-being. So, every society needs thorough study of such problems, their causative factors, inter-related issues, acceptable explanations and workable solutions under demanding situations.

The Scenario of Social Science Research (SSR)

Many commissions and committees of the government as well as thinkers have felt that there is a perceptible degree of disparity between thrust on science & technology and social development. Several committees have strongly recommended to encourage and promote social science research (SSR) and its greater participation in public policy. India's first Higher Education Commission, 1950 (Radhakrishnan Commission) highlighted the disparity between natural and social science, and contended for assigning greater importance to social science research. Indian Education Commission (1964-66), popularly known as 'Kothari Commission', emphasized the need for development of scientific approach in social science research and also urged for the knowledge creation in these areas through training and capacity building programmes. The Commission also recommended for greater allocation of resources for SSR. Though, India's first Education Policy i.e. 'National Policy of Education (NPE), 1968' implicitly held Social Science as Policy Science, yet it insisted on science education and research for national development. However, the Policy recommended that the 'Centres of Advanced Study' should be established or strengthened for the upliftment of social scientific research. The 'National Policy of Education, 1986' and 'Programme of Action, 1992' insisted to minimise the gap between researchers and policy makers and to maintain focus on policy driven research, especially the SSR. The Policy also endorsed the view that inter-disciplinary and trans-disciplinary researches generate greater utility than purely unidisciplinary researches. There is no doubt that research domains have widened in both, science and technology researches as well as in social science researches. There is a growing appreciation of rising degree of complementarity in researches in both the spheres as the two have to be deeply interconnected in order to maximize the benefits from such scientific explorations.

Science and technology research, which upholds to improve the quality of life, needs to be entirely connected with the society as any deficiency in expected degree of its association with the society is bound to result in concentration of benefits among very few people. Besides, there is a fair degree of realization that social science research and social scientists need to be closely connected to the policy making at all levels, including that in science and technology because the idea is to translate researches into impactful policy documents to help research findings bring about still more improvement in the quality of life. It can happen only when research problems emanate from the society & its problems, and researchers endeavour to provide some pragmatic solution to those problems. The linking of social science research with that of science & technology research is bound to provide a very powerful insight even to the researchers in science and help them make their researches or innovations more agreeable to the society. It would also inspire potential social scientists to contribute more vigorously and enthusiastically in policy making. There is no doubt that social science researches are extremely important for policy conception, implementation and final delivery as every policy eventually is to be appreciated and accepted by the society for its (policy's) making attempt to serve the society much better. Identification of critical issues also assists the policy makers to formulate better and more agreeable policies, schemes and programmes. In this connection, the role of social science ecosystem is also very crucial. There is no refutation of the fact that no public policy can be very successfully implemented without discussing it with the society, without being aware of society's aspirations, and also without acquainting the society with new and major developments.

In Scopus database, India is now ranked at 8th position for its social science publications and its share in global publications is nearly 2.8% whereas in Science & Technology publications, India is ranked at 3rd place and its share is around 7.8%. The share of expenditure on social science research is 0.025 per cent of the budget of the central government while it is 0.86% for science research. Thus, the expenditure on social science research is less than 3% of that on science research. Thus, in order to tap the potentials of social science research optimally, it required a big push for which IMPRESS makes a sincere attempt in the expected direction.

IMPRESS (Impactful Policy Research in Social Science)

Impactful Policy Research in Social Science (IMPRESS) is an idea of its own kind as it aims to provide a research-based roadmap to address policy challenges pertaining to society and the social science research expanses. The research-based inputs are the central prerequisites in the process of policy making as a policy should evolve from the society and its concerns; and the policy is finally expected to respond to societal aspirations. It has been pointed out that the gaps of any kind between policy makers and the society need to be bridged. Social science researchers can be very helpful in identification of the gaps between the society and policy makers and they may attempt to provide vital evidence-based inputs about the perception, appreciation and outreach of the policies among people. Besides, there may be critical areas where policy makers require timely inputs, evidence, feedback and participation in order to make policy considerably effective. So, IMPRESS is dedicated to address the issue of bridging the gap between policy making & implementing and the society by generating or encouraging crucial inputs at the end of researches in important social science spheres so as to assist in having maximum impact on governance and society.

The domain and sub-domain areas need to be identified in a way that encompasses most of key subjects under public policy debate due to new developments, earnest concerns, emerging issues and grave deficiencies. Based on these aspects, the following eleven (11) important broad domain areas have been identified after a fair degree of consultations:

1. State and Democracy
2. Urban Transformation
3. Media Culture and Society
4. Employment Skills and Rural Transformation
5. Governance, Innovation and Public Policy
6. Growth, Macro-trade and Economic Policy
7. Agriculture and Rural Development
8. Health and Environment
9. Science and Education
10. Social Media and Technology
11. Politics, Law and Economics

Since IMPRESS intends to support social science scholars, academicians and policy makers for greater impact of research and policy, and for that, it aims to connect social science researches having their objective assessment of ongoing policies with the policy makers. The scheme has more than 100 sub-domain areas within the above mentioned broad 11 domain areas.

Some of these sub-domains include India as a Welfare State, Nature of Federalism in India, Security & Defence Policy, India's Soft Power Policy, Diaspora, Indian Portrayal, Regional Co-operation, Urbanisation, Cities and Sustainability, Urban/City Governance, Urban Transportation, Women Empowerment and its Status, Inclusion and Development of Scheduled Castes & Tribes, Skill and Employability, Rural Transformation, Infrastructure and Transportation, Technology for Rural Transformation, E-Governance and Smart Governance, Innovation, Knowledge and Governance, Technology and Governance, Growth, Inclusiveness, Poverty and Inequality, Ease of Doing Business, Make in India Initiative, Financial Inclusion, Revitalisation of Manufacturing, Informal Sector Issues, Agrarian Distress and related Issues, Food and Nutrition Security, State Level Developments, Environmental Problems and Climate Change, Water Problem, Swachh Bharat Initiative, Universal Health, Disaster and Its Management, Science & Society, Access, Equity and Quality in Higher Education, Digital Learning, Technology and Social Media, Social Media-Networks, Ethics, Accountability and Big Data Issues, Bureaucracy & Administrative Reforms, Judicial Activism, Rape Survivors and Justice System etc.

The proposal of Impactful Policy Research in Social Sciences named as IMPRESS scheme was approved by Government of India in August 2018 with a total budget of ₹ 414 crore spread over three financial years for its implementation starting from October 2018. ICSSR being a highly reputed Social Science Research Council under the Ministry of Human Resource Development, Department of Higher Education, Government of India, was entrusted with the responsibility of implementing the scheme. ICSSR would also contribute a small part its research project grant towards funding of IMPRESS scheme.

The scheme has a target to award a minimum of 1500 research projects and 200 seminars/conferences/workshops over the scheme period. Regular faculty from institutes of national importance, central and state universities, private universities/institutes having UGC12(B) status, and ICSSR research institutes can apply for research programme or projects and seminars under IMPRESS. The proposals are to be invited in a competitive mode through open calls (three to four) and the first call was launched in October 2018. The evaluation process is quite transparent as each proposal is blind peer reviewed by three experts who are assigned proposals through a computer driven system. Based on the recommendations of the experts and merit, the proposals are shortlisted for presentation & interaction before another Expert Committee which makes its observations/recommendations for the consideration of the Steering Committee. The Steering Committee takes the final decision in the light of merit, observations and recommendations of the Expert Committee/s, including the budgetary aspect.

First Call of IMPRESS

The online portal of IMPRESS was formally launched by the then Hon'ble Minister of Human Resource Development, Shri Prakash Javadekar Ji on 25th October, 2018.

Under the First Call of IMPRESS scheme, 2484 proposals (thus far the largest number for ICSSR project applications against a call) were received till 30th November 2018, the last date for receiving the proposals. The scheme had a pan India outreach as faculties/scholars from 32 states and union territories had applied.

In the First phase of First Call, the proposals recommended under blind peer review up to middle of February, 2019 were invited for presentation and interaction. The Project Directors of the shortlisted proposals were given an option of appearing in-person or through skype. Finally, in respect of Phase I of Call-I up to middle of February 2019, 269 projects and 70 proposals for seminar were selected for award by the 'Steering Committee'.

Rest of the proposals of Call-1 shortlisted under blind peer review were invited in the beginning of the financial year 2019-20 for presentation & interaction. The Project Directors of the shortlisted proposals were given an option of appearing in-person or through skype. Finally, in respect of Phase II of Call-I, 470 projects and 37 proposals for seminar were selected for award by the Steering Committee in the month of June 2019. Domain wise list of these selected research projects (470) and Seminars (37) maybe seen at Table No. 4.1

Second Call of IMPRESS

Under the Second Call of IMPRESS scheme, 3626 proposals (even larger than the number of applications received under First Call) were received till 30th November 2019, the last date for receiving the proposals. The scheme has a pan India outreach as faculties/scholars from 32 states and union territories had applied (brief detail of state-wise participation may be seen at Table No. 4.5).

* The expenditure incurred on salary and maintenance of office premises are committed expenditure and, therefore, it is a fixed cost and cannot be reduced. The IDSJ has limited sources of Income, viz., (i) Grant from ICSSR, (ii) Grant from Government of Rajasthan and (iii) Own Source Income. Government of Rajasthan has been releasing a fixed grant amount of ₹ 40.00 lakh for the last 10 years. The faculty strength in IDSJ was only five during the reference period against the sanctioned post of 16, of which two senior faculty members have been holding Director and Secretary posts for the last few years. To a great extent, generation of own income through research projects, workshops and seminars have been constrained by the miniscule size of faculty in IDSJ. The excess of expenditure over income (₹ 137.27 lakh) may be viewed against the backdrop explained above

This Accounting Policy is in contravention of the format of Accounts prescribed by Ministry of Education wherein the depreciation is to be charged at the straight line method as per the rates specified therein.

Further, the disclosed accounting policy was also not followed. The computers were depreciated @ 60% instead of 40% as specified in the IT Act. This has resulted in overstatement of Depreciation and understatement of Fixed Assets by Rs.4.37 lakh.

A.1.2 Loans, Advances & Deposits (Schedule 8)- Rs. 55.72 lakh

The above includes advances of Rs. 18.05 lakh to CPWD for maintenance of building. The work has been completed in September 2012 but adjustment of advances have not been done. This has resulted in overstatement of Loans, Advances & Deposits and understatement of Expenditure by Rs. 18.05 lakh.

This is being pointed out since 2014-15 but remedial action has not been taken.

C. Grants-in-aid

ICSSR had an unspent balance of Rs. 7.81 crore (Capital: Rs. 2.36 crore and Revenue: Rs. 5.45 crore) of previous year.
