

A GRAND ALLIANCE TO SAVE OUR PUBLIC POSTAL SERVICE

In the face of aggressive attacks, a wide range of national and local organizations have come together to create A Grand Alliance to Save Our Public Postal Service. These organizations are united in the demand that the public good must not be sacrificed for the sake of private investment and profit. A strong public Postal Service is our democratic right. A Grand Alliance is fighting to protect and enhance vibrant public postal services now—and for many generations to come.

A GRAND ALLIANCE
TO SAVE OUR PUBLIC POSTAL SERVICE

A GRAND ALLIANCE MISSION STATEMENT

The United States Postal Service is a wonderful national treasure, enshrined in the Constitution and supported by the American people. Without any taxpayer funding, the USPS serves 150 million households and businesses each day, providing affordable, universal mail service to all—including rich and poor, rural and urban, without regard to age, nationality, race or gender.

The U.S. Postal Service belongs to “We, the People.” But the USPS and postal jobs are threatened by narrow monied interests aimed at undermining postal services and dismantling this great public institution.

Even some postal executives have been complicit in the drive toward the destruction of the Postal Service and ultimate privatization: They have slowed mail service, closed community based Post Offices and mail processing facilities, slashed hours of operations, tried ceaselessly to end six-day service as well as door to door delivery, and eliminated hundreds of thousands of living wage jobs.

Good postal jobs are vital to strong, healthy communities, and have provided equal opportunities and the foundation for financial stability for workers from all walks of life, including racial and ethnic minorities, women and veterans. Postal services are essential to commerce and bind together families, friends and loved ones. In the day of e-commerce, a public postal service is as relevant as ever.

Yet those corporate forces who want to privatize public services allege that curtailing postal services and eliminating jobs are necessary due to diminishing mail volume and “burdensome” union wages and benefits. Nothing could be further from the truth.

In reality, a Congressionally-manufactured USPS “crisis” imposed an unfair crushing financial mandate on the Postal Service that no other government agency or private company is forced to bear. (The Postal Accountability and Enhancement Act of 2006 compels the USPS to pay approximately $5.5 billion per year to fund future retiree healthcare costs 75 years in advance.) Without this unreasonable burden, the USPS would have enjoyed an operating surplus of $600 million in 2013 and over $1.4 Billion in 2014.

The people of this country deserve great public postal services. We advocate expanded services, such as non-profit postal banking and other financial services. We call on the Postmaster General and Postal Board of Governors to strengthen and champion the institution.

The public good must not be sacrificed for the sake of private investment and profit. A strong public Postal Service is our democratic right.

KNOW THE FACTS ABOUT OUR PUBLIC POSTAL SERVICE

OUR U.S. POSTAL SERVICE IS UNDER ATTACK

Our great national treasure is under attack and mail service to the American people is suffering.

- Congress manufactured the Postal Service's financial problems in 2006 by requiring the USPS to pre-fund retiree healthcare costs 75 years into the future.
- USPS has cut service by lowering service standards, delaying all mail, reducing door-to-door delivery, and closing more than 140 mail processing plants.
- Six-day delivery is constantly under threat.

IS POSTAL PRIVATIZATION A DANGER?

Many on Wall Street and in Congress are eager to dismantle the Postal Service so they can turn over the profitable segments to private industry.

- USPS management has proposed wholesale subcontracting of its transportation operations.
- Outsourcing retail work to private companies like Staples further degrades service.
- Despite their denials, the USPS continues to privatize postal services in a piecemeal fashion.

HAS THE POSTAL SERVICE BECOME IRRELEVANT?

Contrary to what you may have heard, the internet isn't making the world's largest postal system irrelevant.

- Package delivery has skyrocketed, including delivery of approximately 30% of FedEx's total U.S. ground volume every day.
- In 2016, the USPS delivered nearly 154 billion pieces of mail to 156 million addresses – all without any of your tax dollars.
- If it were a private-sector company, the U.S. Postal Service would rank 39th in the Fortune 500, with operating revenue of $71.4 billion in fiscal year 2016.
