Subject: Updated Documents for ODI Complaint #10862587

Dear Sirs:

Please find the attached documents to support my claim. They include:

- NHTSA form 10862587.pdf — updated form you provided
- Volvo Repair All Docs 042716.pdf — A letter to the manufacturer sent on April 27, 2016, after the Sarasota dealer told me that Volvo would NOT be repairing the vehicle (as required by my manufacturer warranty).
- Volvo emails.pdf — Emailed correspondence between myself and the manufacturer's Customer Service Center in NJ
- Volvo Maintenance Docs.pdf — Copies of invoices I could find. There were additional visits to the dealer attempting to repair the problem (I have the dates noted on my personal calendar). The dealer could confirm the additional dates.

If you have further questions, please let me know. Thank you for your consideration.

Dear Betty:

I was contacted by Ms. Kristian Quaquarucci, the General Manager of Volvo of Tampa. She was directed to contact me by Sasha.

She sent me a price for me to trade-in my defective Volvo for a lesser Volvo (XC60) than the one I have.

The "deal" she presented required me to trade-in my vehicle for another vehicle, and I would be required to pay over $17K. I do not understand why Volvo would think I would want another Volvo and pay that much money. I explained to Kristian that I am not willing to pay more than $10K for another Volvo with this trade-in. Kristian explained that she did not believe it was her responsibility to pay out of her pocket that amount of money, she gained nothing from that. I agreed with her. It should be the manufacturer who produced the vehicle that has to pay.

We have come to an impasse. I am not willing to pay the money you want for another Volvo. Therefore, I am formally requesting you repair the Navigation System/Backup camera of my existing Volvo.

The warranty expired on September 30, 2015, or at 50,000 miles. The defect was reported on February 24, 2015, when it had 46,013 miles on it. According to my warranty, on Page 37:

"What is Warranted: Volvo warrants that repairs required to Volvo passenger vehicles due to defects in material or workmanship and occurring under normal use will be made at no charge for parts and/or labor during the warranty period.”

“The Warranty Period — Four (4) Years/50,000 Miles/80,000 Km: The warranty period for repairs is four (4) years or 50,000 miles/80,000 kilometers, whichever occurs first.”

On Page 57, second paragraph, “The warranty repairs should be completed in a reasonable amount of time, not to exceed thirty (30) days.”

It has now been 15 full months since this issue was first reported, far surpassing the 30 day repair time Volvo indicates it will take to make any repair. To execute this repair, I recommend we use this letter as the start date of the "30 day repair time" Volvo documented it should take to repair one of their vehicles under their warranty.

I will send a copy of this email to the Federal Trade Commission so they are aware of this warranty issue and my request. I have already filed a complaint and want to keep them abreast of what is transpiring.

Thank you for responding, Betty. As I said, I do not have a long list of criteria: navigation is priority #1. Second is exterior color: white (or gray ~ not silver). Third is interior leather color: prefer tan. That's it.

Please let me know the best option. Thank you for your time.

Hello [REDACTED]

Per Sacha We cannot do anything on a demo. In most cases with current incentives we can likely do a new XC60 at a better deal than a demo. He will search to see what we have in the area with your criteria in new car and let you know what he comes up with. I will keep you posted.

Dear Betty,

I spoke with Sasha yesterday (5/12/16) at great length about my vehicle. He advised me to contact you because of his travel schedule.

Sasha presented two options, one of which was to trade out my existing vehicle for one similar. The most comparable vehicle in 2016 is the XC60. The caveat that I am aware of is that it does not have a third row seat, which was one of my requirements back in 2011 when I purchased my existing vehicle. However, the size of the XC60 is the most similar to what I already have, and I am not willing to drive a larger vehicle like the 2016 XC90 which is longer and wider than the 2012.

I have researched dealers in my area. I am interested in the following vehicle from the Volvo of Tampa store: Stock [REDACTED] I understand this is a demo vehicle, and it has been discounted for the general public. Sasha indicated he would take my car at a trade-in value of between $19K-20K. I am requesting the $20K value as I have new tires on this vehicle that I purchased recently and were very expensive. Sasha indicated that he would sell me a Volvo from any dealer at the dealer cost minus the incentives. Please advise the total price I would be charged if I elected to trade-out my vehicle for this one.

Betty, if you know of a similar vehicle to this one, I would consider that one, as well. My only criteria is that the vehicle is white and has a navigation system. This is the same criteria I had when I purchased the XC90.

I am willing to purchase a demo/used vehicle, as long as it does not have over 12K miles on it. My intent is to turn this vehicle over to my [REDACTED] son (in 2 years), my focus continues to be his safety. In addition, I am not going to purchase another vehicle from Craig Constable of Volvo Sarasota. I will drive 100 miles to buy one from another dealer, if necessary. The Service Department and Joe Rice have always been exceptional, so I will continue to use Volvo Sarasota to service my vehicle.

I am hoping you will give me a price that is fair to me, as a consumer who purchased a vehicle that now has a manufacturer defect that Volvo will not repair. I have been patient for over a year waiting for the fix. I am not happy that I now have to spend money on another vehicle when repairing the defect would have been free to me.

If you have any questions, please email or call [REDACTED] at your earliest convenience. Thank you for your assistance with this issue.

Regards,
[REDACTED]

Dear Betty,

The following lists how much effort I have made to communicate with Volvo:

- 4/27/16 - Originally faxed document and emailed
- 4/28/16 – Left voice message for Betty
- 4/29/16 – Betty returned my call and informed me of Volvo's position (as documented below as I recall it)
- 5/2/16 – Email sent to Volvo asking for written verification of their position
- 5/5/16 – Second request to Volvo asking for written verification
- 5/6/16 – Betty sent email advising a manager would call me on 5/9/16, I requested he/she write me instead
- 5/10/16 – No phone call or email, requesting written confirmation for the third time.

Betty, please respond to my email as requested below. Thank you.

Betty:

Thank you for returning my call this past Friday, April 29. I would like to confirm in writing the details of our conversation so I make sure I understand where Volvo stands on the issue with my vehicle. This is what I believe you told me:

1. The Volvo company is never going to fix the GPS/backup camera in my vehicle. The GPS/backup camera does not work, you are aware of it, but you will not pay a software technician to find the bug so this feature in my vehicle works correctly. Volvo, as the manufacturer knows that less than 100 vehicles have the same issues.
2. The Volvo company is not going to buy my vehicle from me. It is up to me, the consumer with the defective vehicle who purchased this vehicle new and as the only owner, to trade it in and accept the lower value because of this defect.

This is an abbreviated version of what I believe I was told. Please respond and confirm these are factual statements. If you would like to add to the above, please do so right away. Thank you.

Attention: Volvo Customer Care Center

Dear Sir/Madame:

I purchased my new 2012 Volvo XC90 R-Design vehicle (VIN #YV4952CF5C1 [REDACTED] on September 30, 2011, and am the original owner. I bought this specific vehicle because of its stellar reputation for being one of the safest vehicles on the road. I have two teenage sons who would be learning to drive in this vehicle; their safety is my priority.

On February 12, 2015, I took the vehicle in for a problem with the backup camera/GPS system. The backup camera window comes up when it is placed in Reverse, the backup camera stays on when you put it into Drive, and then the GPS doesn't work. It was not repaired that day at their first attempt to fix it. I returned to the dealership four more times (2/24/15, 3/11/15, 6/10/15, and 11/17/15), and they attempted to fix it each time to no avail. This issue has only gotten worse; sometimes when I put the car from Drive into Park, the GPS window comes up and the backup camera comes on ~ while in Park.

I went into the dealership on February 8, 2016, almost one full year after the issue was first reported. I was informed that there is no fix for this issue, and there will never be one. This is a software issue, and the company that wrote the program went out of business. This problem can be fixed; Volvo has to hire a company to look at the software, find the bug in the system, and change it so it works properly. My husband just sold his software company; I know this option will be expensive. I have also been informed that only about 100 customers have this issue with their Volvo vehicle. Therefore, Volvo Corporation has refused to repair this bug.

According to your web site and documentation: "From Design, Engineering, and Manufacturing to support activities in Parts, Service, and Sales, high standards have been set to help insure your satisfaction and pride as an owner of a Volvo."

I am assuming my high standards are different than yours; I purchased a product that I expected would outperform my husband's Chevrolet. Sadly, it doesn't even meet that standard.

Satisfaction and pride? This is both my husband and my first Volvo. We are neither satisfied nor proud of our vehicle.

I have patiently waited for Volvo to repair this safety feature. What would make me happy? Here is the original answer to this question in order of preference:

1. Repair the software bug in my Volvo and let me move on. It would be free to me, and I don't have to incur any expenses. Unfortunately, I have been informed that this is not possible.
2. A free car. I am neither selfish nor stupid. I know you are not going to give me a free car.
3. Trade out this vehicle you refuse to repair for one with the same safety features I originally wanted and purchased back in 2011. I want my children to benefit from these features the Volvo XC90 has.

On February 8, 2016, I advised Craig Constable, the Sales Manager of Volvo of Sarasota (who sold me my car originally), and Joe Rice, the Service Manager, my above preferences. I explained that the only way I would walk away "satisfied" is if Volvo swapped out my existing vehicle with a 2016 fully functioning XC90.

I took the Kelly Blue Book trade-in value of my vehicle at the time (between $22,348 - $25,309), and rounded it to $25,000 because I had just put new tires on this car for $1,000. I took the cost of an XC90 on the Sarasota lot ($49,759), subtracted the trade-in value, and suggested Volvo Corporation and I split the balance ($12,380 each). I have attached a copy of the Kelly Blue Book printout from February 8 plus a copy of a XC90 they had on the lot that was priced at $49,759 at that time.

I thought it was fair to split the difference because: (a) I do not want to purchase a new vehicle, and (b) I did nothing wrong but want the safety features the vehicle offered.

After not hearing from Volvo for the past two months, I emailed Joe Rice at the dealership on April 24 (attached) and asked them to just cut me a check for $26,750. I stated that I would take the money to another car dealership and buy another car outright. The Lexus dealer has been very cooperative and their corporation has a good reputation. My faith in Volvo is gone.

Craig called me back today. He advised me he absolutely will not cut me a check and buy my vehicle outright. He insulted me with this counter-offer of the following TRADE-IN value to buy another Volvo:

Trade-in value	$17,300
Tax Benefit	1,038
Loyalty refund	1,000
Trade assist from Volvo	4,000
Total:	$23,338

This offer is offensive. I am the customer; I paid for this vehicle in good faith that it would last with our family for the next 6-8 years while my sons learned to drive. Craig said that this low trade-in value amount is due to the fact that my sideswipe accident that appears on my carfax. My "sideswipe" accident was an incident that cost about $1,500 to repair for the left front quarter panel to be fixed, repainted. It was cosmetic damage that did not include the engine at all. I advised Craig that the real issue is selling this vehicle with safety features that do not work; it has nothing to do with cosmetic damage that was repaired over a year ago.

As you can see by the attached Kelley Blue Book (trade-in value of $19,896) and Edmonds car value Book (trade-in value of between $22,386-$25,185) information, the trade-in value he has offered is a low-ball offer. He stated that this is the best he can do. This is the best?

It is not my fault by any means that you have a bug in your software. I have been patient waiting for a fix, now I know there will not be one. I cannot believe that this is how Volvo treats their customers. At this point, I do not want to own another Volvo, ever. I would like you to buy this vehicle that you refuse to repair from me. I am asking that you please cut me a check for the trade-in value of my vehicle ($23,000 – a mid-price value as I just spent $1,000 on new tires) plus the tax savings I would have received ($1,610) for a total of $24,610.

I am disappointed with the response I have received to date. If you have questions or would like to discuss this, please call me at your convenience. Thank you for your cooperation.

From: [REDACTED]

To: Joe Rice

CC: [REDACTED]

Good Afternoon, Joe:

I'm assuming from the lack of response of the team there that you don't want to accept the deal I presented in February that would have been acceptable to me. Therefore, I would like Volvo of Sarasota to buy my XC90 since you and Volvo Corporation refuse to repair the functions I purchased in this vehicle. As a reminder, the backup camera/GPS issues were reported to your dealership in February of 2015. Over the past 14 months after four attempts to repair it, you have acknowledged there is no fix available for this software issue, and there will never be one.

I'm going to buy a car at another dealer; I would like the trade-in value of my car from Volvo since it's necessary to disclose this car's safety features do not work properly. I won't get the full value by no fault of my own.

According to Kelly Blue Book, my car's trade-in value is approximately $25,000. The additional cost out of my pocket I will pay in taxes because I'm not trading it is: $1,750. Therefore, I am requesting that Volvo of Sarasota cut a check to me for $26,750.

Needless to say, I am disappointed. I expected more from a vehicle produced by the Volvo Corporation with it's stellar reputation. Please let me know when the check is ready, I will drop off my car with the title. Thank you.

Regards,
