About the speakers

Bernadette Robinson

Bernadette graduated at the Physiotherapy School at the Georg August University Göttingen, Germany, in 1980. Prior to moving to Australia she worked for 15 years in the Children's Hospital & Child Development Centre in Oldenburg, Germany. Bernadette is now in her 15th year working at the Fremantle Child Development Service where she holds the position as Senior Physiotherapist. She works also one day per week in her private practice.

Gillian Griffiths

Gillian Griffiths is an Occupational Therapist with 15 years experience as a senior practitioner, program manager, consultant and facilitator of professional development and caregiver programs. Gillian has extensive training from the USA and Australia in Sensory Processing; Picky Eaters vs Problem Feeders: The Sequential Oral Sensory (SOS) Approach to Feeding; Infant Mental Health; Family Partnerships; Circle of Security; Trauma; The Developmental Individual Difference, Relationship Based Approach (DIR)/ Floortime, Perceive, Recall, Plan Perform; Therapeutic Listening and Infant Massage. Gillian uses her vast experience and a broad range of evidence to make SENSE of complex mealtime difficulties.

Gillian is co-director of Engaging Your Senses (<http://www.facebook.com/EngagingYourSenses>). She supports teams and professionals across Australia and internationally to provide effective, holistic services for the whole family. Gillian is passionate about enabling families to experience nourishing and harmonious and daily routines.

Sharon Perrella

Sharon is a registered nurse and midwife, with qualifications and experience in neonatal intensive care and child health nursing. She has been a voluntary breastfeeding counselor with the Australian Breastfeeding Association and qualified as an International Board Certified Lactation Consultant in 2008.

In September 2014 Sharon completed a PhD titled "The Effect Of Different Types Of Nutrition On The Gastrointestinal Response Of The Preterm Infant," and commenced her current position of Research Associate with the Hartmann Human Lactation Research Team at The University of Western Australia.

Sharon's research interests include the establishment of lactation and breastfeeding following preterm birth, low milk supply, and the effect of oral anomalies on breastfeeding outcomes.

Catherine Fetherston

Associate Professor Cathy Fetherston is Head of Nursing in the School of Health Professions at Murdoch University. Cathy has also been an IBCLC since 1992, and worked in a private community hospital lactation clinic until 2010. In her role as an academic she still provides breastfeeding education, supervises lactation and breastfeeding research, is a reviewer for several peer review lactation journals and writes on breastfeeding matters in the scientific and popular media. She also has a special interest in ethical issues in health after serving for over 3 years on Murdoch University's Human Ethics Research Committee.

Sue Saunders

Sue Saunders was one of the first IBCLC's in WA in 1989. Since 1994 when she left WA, she has worked with families when breastfeeding and lactation are not going well. Sue has used the 'I', the 'International' in IBCLC in employment, self-employment and voluntary roles in Perth, England, West Africa, Penang and the Middle East. She is now back for good!

Sue is a founding and honorary member of LCGB, the inaugural ILCA/WABA Fellow in Penang, ILCA Board of Director for 5 years, Fellow of ILCA (FILCA), is currently a proof reader for a breastfeeding journal, a member of CLCWA and regional coordinator for LCA NZ WA.

As a Certified Infant Massage Instructor with IAIM, Sue facilitates the accredited five week First Touch Infant Massage program to encourage parents to use appropriate massage strokes and to recognise and respect their baby's cues and behavioural states.

Poster Display

Poster presentations will be displayed during lunch and breaks. Posters involve a short, visual presentation of the major focus, issues of concern, methods, findings and conclusions of the presentation. Posters allow all conference delegates to be reached and presenters will have the opportunity to discuss their work informally and in-depth with interested delegates.

A prize of $500 will be awarded for the best poster.

To submit your Expression of Interest for the poster display please email info@breastfeedingconferences.com.au

Deadline for submissions: Friday October 16th
