

Medical Expenditure Panel Survey (MEPS): Asthma Content

The MEPS is a set of large-scale federal government surveys of families and individuals, their medical providers, and employers across the United States. MEPS is the most complete source of data on the cost and use of health care and health insurance coverage. The survey consists of two main components: the Household Component (HC) and the Insurance Component (IC), and additional Medical Provider Component (MPC) and Nursing Home Component (NHC), the latter conducted only in 1996. Asthma questions on lifetime prevalence, current prevalence, age at diagnosis, asthma attacks, medications, and home treatment are asked on the MEPS Household Component.

Administered by the Agency for Healthcare Research and Quality (AHRQ), DHHS
