

Happy New Year!

Senator John Skubal was recognized for his lifelong service to the community with the 2020 Richard A. Worrel Community Legacy Award at the Chamber Annual Meeting last month. Posing with Sen. Skubal are 2020 Chairman Bobby Olm-Shipman, Saint Luke's South Hospital; Chamber President Tracey Osborne Oltjen; and 2021 Chairman Bill Ferguson, Central Bank of the Midwest.

Chamber board endorses SMSD's Bond 2021 proposal

QUALITY OF LIFE

The Chamber's Board of Directors has endorsed Bond 2021, a $264.22 million bond package Shawnee Mission School District residents will vote on in a mail-in ballot election this month.

"Our quality schools have long been a source of pride for Johnson County and have driven much of the success and growth we've experienced in our community," said Kevin Walker, Senior Vice President of Public Policy. "This bond proposal positions the Shawnee Mission School District to serve our kids well into the future through the hiring of exceptional educators and state-of-the-art facilities."

The bond proposal encompasses a series of proposed projects identified to make facility improvements with the goal of benefiting every student and to support student learning and hire additional teachers. The proposal includes updates across the district for students in Pre-K through 12th grade. More information about Bond 2021 is available at www.smsd.org/bond-2021.

All registered voters in the school district will receive a ballot in their mailbox. Ballots must be received at the Johnson County Election Office by 12 p.m. on January 26. Voters can register, check the status of their registration, and find more information about the election at www.jocoelection.org.

We are committed to being your essential organization

2021 CHAIRMAN'S MESSAGE

I look forward to leading the Chamber this year in its ongoing mission to make Overland Park – and businesses like yours – prosper.

I am proud to represent Central Bank of the Midwest in our partnership with the Chamber that dates back to Ben Craig. At the recent Leadership Overland Park (LOP) graduation, as I listened to our own Theodis Watson deliver the class message, I reflected on my experience in LOP 16 years ago. New to Overland Park at the time, it was a perfect introduction to the power of the Chamber, and a pivotal time in my career that has continued to inform my leadership journey through relationships I have built here.

The Overland Park Chamber is an amazing organization made up of dedicated and passionate staff as well as an incredibly experienced board of directors who work tirelessly to support, advocate and deliver results essential to our business community. The accomplishments of this chamber are possible through intentional leadership, unwavering dedication and everyday engagement from this team of professionals.

During the recent Good Morning, Overland Park! program, I was inspired to hear speakers using words like pivot, re-imagine and re-engineer with respect to their business models, product offerings and delivery channels. The face of prosperity is changing, and you are rising to the challenge. How ironic that social distance brought us together to do things previously unimagined.

With a new year and new hope ahead, we are more nimble, more creative and more determined to discover and respond to needs and opportunities.

Whether you are new to the Chamber or a longstanding member, I urge you in 2021 to:

- Add your bold voice to ours;
- Join us in the tough conversations that tackle the big issues;
- Become an advocate with us for action and growth;
- Partner with us as we work hard every day to make Overland Park the best place to build a business, a career and a home.

Healthy businesses keep the pulse of our community strong, and the Chamber is committed to being your essential organization for resources that help your business thrive – information, advocacy, member connections and strong relationships - all in one place.

Think of us as #MyOPChamber.

New guide on COVID-19 emergency loans

The U.S. Chamber has released a new guide with the latest information and answers to FAQs about changes Congress has made as part of its end-of-the-year pandemic relief package.

To view the Guide to Small Business COVID-19 Emergency Loans, click here. This guide will be updated as new information becomes available.

Congress passed several changes to the Paycheck Protection

Program (PPP) and created a “Second Draw” PPP for small businesses that have exhausted their initial loan. Other changes impact eligibility for initial PPP loans, the loan forgiveness process and the tax treatment of PPP loans. Changes also have been made to other programs that will benefit small businesses including the Economic Injury Disaster Loans (EIDL) program, the Employee Retention Tax Credit, a Venue Grant program and SBA loan programs.

The Chamber was pleased to help Kansas City Eye Clinic celebrate a groundbreaking for its new surgery center at 75th & Antioch. The surgery center is scheduled to open in Fall 2021. For more information: www.kceyeclinic.com.

Economy will be a focus during 2021 Legislature

Kevin Walker
Senior Vice President of Public Policy

The Kansas Legislature is scheduled to return to Topeka on January 11, but there is much still unknown about the 2021 session. Perhaps the biggest question is how will the legislature operate?

As of this writing, legislative leaders still have not determined if they will function remotely or in-person. Over the summer the legislature invested heavily in beefing up its audio-visual capabilities. This will provide more public access to its deliberations and aid in operating remotely, but a recent opinion by Attorney General Derek Schmidt made it clear that final action on bills almost certainly needs to be conducted in-person. Legislative leaders continue to gather health and legal guidance to help plot a course of action.

As if the question of how the legislature operates isn't enough to complicate matters, we're coming off an election cycle in which every member of the House and Senate was up for election. This occurrence every four years leads to numerous changes in leadership, legislative makeup and committee assignments. Bottom line: the start of the 2021 session will require flexibility and patience as everyone adapts to the changes and learns how to operate under the shadow of a pandemic.

As for the issues, the state of the economy will be front-and-center. How will the state recover from the impacts of COVID-19? What do we do about the well-documented problems with our unemployment system? How do we replenish the unemployment trust fund that helped many Kansans weather the eco-conomic storm caused by COVID? What changes to laws and regulations can we implement that will not only aid in recovery, but allow businesses more flexibility in how they operate their businesses going forward?

The Chamber will be engaged in these issues as they have direct impact on the business community. Additionally, we'll also be working with legislative leaders to work through the challenges and opportunities uncovered in the ongoing audits of our state economic development incentive programs. We'll also continue to advocate for the expansion and modernization of US 69 and work with lawmakers to ensure the new Eisenhower Legacy Transportation Program is adequately funded.

In many ways, it will be a unique session, but in other ways, the regular ebb and flow of the legislative process to start the year may also bring back some sense of normalcy. No doubt we'll all take whatever sense of normalcy we can get at this point. As always, you'll receive regular updates via our weekly "This Week in Topeka" reports. Look for them in your inbox soon.

Chamber presents virtual Annual Meeting hosted by T-Mobile Business

Presenting Sponsor

The Chamber reflected on the achievements of the past year – despite a devastating pandemic – and looked to the future for a brighter, more promising 2021 during its virtual Annual Meeting presented live from the T-Mobile Campus.

2020 Chairman Bobby Olm-Shipman, Saint Luke's South Hospital; reviewed Chamber accomplishments of the past year. 2021 Chairman Bill Ferguson, Central Bank of the Midwest; discussed the Chamber's objectives for the year ahead and shared big plans the Chamber intends to pursue.

Recognized for their service to the Chamber were several outgoing board members: Jim Hemenway, Chicago Title; Craig Jeffries, Empower Retirement; Roger Summers, Fogel-Anderson Construction; and Mark Williams, Garver, LLC.

The program included the presentation of the 2020 Richard A. Worrel Community Legacy Award to Sen. John Skubal for his lifelong passion to build and develop a community that thrives on a foundation of investment in education, infrastructure, business development and community spirit.

Wrapping up the event was a dynamic presentation by futurist and economist Rebecca Ryan who shared concepts for successfully adapting to whatever the future might bring our way.
