Customer Challenges

Agreements with donors, suppliers, and service providers are vital in ensuring that Save the Children can provide aid to recipients. The existing process had been time-consuming, manual, and difficult to manage. There was no central place or coherent approach for storing and managing contracts and agreements. Contracts with donors and critical service providers were at risk of lapsing and were reliant on constant manual oversight. Paper copies of contracts were exchanged between parties leading to lengthy procurement times. Contract execution required manual signatures which meant sending and receiving physical documents.

Agreement Manager by Circle T

The Circle T Agreement Manager is central lifecycle management solution and repository for contracts and agreements. Metadata, reports, and workflows support the processes of contracts and agreements to ensure operational and contractual compliance. Agreements and contracts are created and stored in a central location while secure collaboration is enabled via permissions-based access. Integration with DocuSign digitises the signing and execution process. Supporting materials are stored together to provide context, with detailed reporting including expiry dates, signing parties and agreement status.

Customer Benefits

Circle T's Agreement Manager extends the capabilities of the modern digital workplace to transform the management and processing of critical documents and provide seamless collaboration across internal teams, field staff, volunteers, and third parties.

Enriching the collaboration across Save the Children teams and externally with third parties by completely digitising the entire lifecycle of contracts

Creation and execution of contracts is streamlined with co-authoring and integration with DocuSign, shortening and simplifying procurement cycle times

Substantial efficiencies in day-to-day work owing to an intuitive user interface
