Grant Funders like to Support...

- After-school & Summer-school activities
- Educational enrichment
- Student success & Drop-out prevention
- Literacy
- STEM education & CTE pathways
- School climate & Safety
- College & Career readiness
- University-supported research/Innovation demonstration

- Start with your need for the project lack of technology usually isn't a sufficient problem to inspire the funder, think about what "warm & fuzzy" issue the technology will help solve!
- In your budget justification explain for each piece of equipment:

Follow us on Twitter

@grantsoffice

- What grant-funded activities will the technology enable?
- How does this technology (and associated activity) help you accomplish one of your stated project goals?
- Involve vendors & IT staff to ensure your project will work
  - Save vendor quotes & product notes for later use when preparing your proposal documentation (you may need to include these as attachments)

REMEMBER: It's the project (not the product) that gets funded

Grant Seeking for Technology

Take time to brainstorm how you could position the desired product within a broader project.

In this case... preparing for, responding to, and preventing spread of coronavirus.

Grant Funding Timeline

Other Differences

Traditional Grants

- More lead time, means more time to prep more application materials
- Lengthy narratives (pages), extensive budget justifications, several supplemental attachments
- Usual state/federal spending regulations are in place
- Pre-award costs not allowed

Stimulus Grants

- Abbreviated application packages
- Minimal narrative expectations

   (sentences), brief budget outlines, few/no attachments beyond basic grant award certifications and assurances
- Supplement, not supplant and other requirements may be waived
- Pre-award costs may be allowed
