Service overview

HP Hardware Support Onsite Service provides high-quality remote assistance and onsite support for your covered hardware, helping you to improve product uptime.

You have the flexibility to choose between multiple predefined service-level options featuring several onsite response or call-to-repair time and coverage window combinations in various durations to address your specific service needs.

Service-level options with call-to-repair times provide IT managers with support specialists who will quickly begin troubleshooting the system to help return the hardware to operating condition within a specified timeframe. In addition, you may choose to purchase Accidental damage protection for your covered hardware. This cover has been arranged by HP with AIG Australia Limited (“AIG”) Details of the Accidental damage protection and the terms and conditions governing this coverage are set out in the Product Disclosure statement (Appendix A) and this HP Care Pack. Accidental damage protection is available as either Accidental damage protection (AUD$55 (plus GST)) service fee per claim or Accidental damage protection (nil service fee). Full details of both options including coverage and exclusions are set out in Table 2 below.

Accidental damage protection optional service feature, you must report accidental damage to HP within thirty days of the incident date so that HP can expedite system repair. The report must have a detailed explanation of the accident, including when, where, and how it occurred, and a description of damage to the unit. HP may deny the claim if this information is not provided, or if the incident is reported more than thirty days after the incident date.

Remote problem diagnosis and support	Once the Customer has placed and HP has acknowledged the receipt of a call as described in ‘General provisions’, HP will work during the coverage window to isolate the hardware incident and to remotely troubleshoot, remedy, and resolve the incident with the Customer. Prior to any onsite assistance, HP may initiate and perform remote diagnostics using electronic remote support solutions to access covered products, or HP may use other means available to facilitate remote incident resolution. HP will provide telephone assistance for the installation of customer-installable firmware and Customer Self Repair parts during the service coverage window. Regardless of the Customer’s coverage window, incidents with covered hardware can be reported to HP via telephone or Web portal, as locally available, or as an automated equipment reporting event via the HP electronic remote support solutions 24 hours a day, 7 days a week. Onsite hardware support	For hardware incidents that cannot, in HP's judgment, be resolved remotely, an HP authorized representative will provide onsite technical support on covered hardware products to return them to operating condition. Save for any condition, warranty, guarantee, right or remedy the Customer may have at law which cannot be excluded, limited or modified (including a consumer guarantee under the Australian Consumer Law), for certain products, HP may elect to replace such products in lieu of repairing them. Replacement products are new or functionally equivalent to new in performance. Goods presented for repair may be replaced by refurbished goods of the same type rather than being repaired. Refurbished parts may be used to repair the goods. Replaced products become the property of HP. Once an HP authorized representative arrives at the Customer's site, the representative will continue to deliver the service, either onsite or remotely, at the discretion of HP, until the products are repaired. Work may be temporarily suspended if parts or additional resources are required, but work will resume when they become available. Save for any condition, warranty, guarantee, right or remedy the Customer may have at law which cannot be excluded, limited or modified (including a consumer guarantee under the Australian Consumer Law), repair is considered complete upon HP verification that the hardware malfunction has been corrected or that the hardware has been replaced. 'Fix-on-Failure': In addition at time of onsite technical support delivery, HP may: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Install available engineering improvements to help the Customer ensure proper operation of the hardware products and maintain compatibility with HP-supplied hardware replacement parts. • Install available firmware updates defined by HP as non-customer- installable that, in the opinion of HP, are required to return the covered product to operating condition or to maintain supportability by HP and for which the Customer has the required license to use, if applicable. 'Fix-on-Request': In addition, at customer request HP will install during coverage hours critical firmware updates defined by HP as non-customer- installable and for which the Customer has the required license to use, if applicable. Critical firmware updates are firmware updates recommended by the HP product division for immediate installation.
Replacement parts and materials	HP will provide HP-supported replacement parts and materials necessary to maintain the covered hardware product in operating condition, including parts and materials for available and recommended engineering improvements. Replacement parts provided by HP shall be new or functionally equivalent to new in performance. Goods presented for repair may be replaced by refurbished goods of the same type rather than being repaired. Refurbished parts may be used to repair the goods. Replaced parts become the property of HP. Customers who wish to retain, degauss, or otherwise physically destroy replaced parts will be billed and required to pay the list price less any applicable discounts for the replacement part. Supplies and consumable parts are not supported and will not be provided as part of this service; standard warranty terms and conditions and your rights (if any) under the Australian Consumer Law apply to supplies and consumable parts. Maximum supported lifetime/maximum usage: Parts and components that have exceeded an acceptable maximum usage rate or duty cycle (including as specified in the manufacturer's operating manual, product QuickSpecs, or the technical product data sheet) will not be provided, repaired, or replaced as part of this service.

Coverage window	The coverage window specifies the time during which the described services are delivered onsite or remotely. Calls received outside this coverage window will be logged at the time the call is placed to HP, but will not be acknowledged as described in 'General provisions' until the next day for which the Customer has a coverage window. Coverage window options available for eligible products are specified in the Service-level options table. All coverage windows are subject to local availability. Contact a local HP sales office for detailed information on service availability.
Onsite response time for hardware support	For incidents with covered hardware that cannot be resolved remotely, HP will use commercially reasonable efforts to respond onsite within the specified onsite response time. Onsite response time specifies the period of time that begins when the initial call has been received and acknowledged by HP, as described in 'General provisions'. The onsite response time ends when the HP authorized representative arrives at the Customer's site, or when the reported event is closed with explanation that HP has determined it does not currently require an onsite intervention. Response times are measured during the coverage window only and may be carried over to the next day for which there exists a coverage window. Response time options available for eligible products are specified in the Service-level options table. All response times are subject to local availability. The details of such cooling off rights are set out in the PDS. You are also entitled to cancel this Accidental damage protection cover at any time. However such cancellation (or cancellation under your cooling off rights) will automatically result in cancellation of the entire HP Care Pack Services found in this document. You are a beneficiary under the group policy purchased by HP. This means that, your claim for Accidental Damage will be covered and paid by AIG. AIG has appointed HP to handle any AD Claims. Accidental damage is defined as physical damage to a product caused by or resulting from a sudden and unforeseen incident, provided such damage occurs in the course of regular use. Covered perils include non-intentional liquid spills in or on the unit, drops, falls, and electrical surge, as well as damaged or broken liquid crystal displays (LCDs) and broken parts. One-time Battery Replacement	The One Time Battery Replacement Service offers onsite replacement of out-of-warranty batteries. One replacement battery will be provided if the originally purchased battery drops below 50% charge capacity during normal use or if a cell failure has occurred before the 50% limit is reached.

Call-to-repair time commitment for hardware support

A call-to-repair time commitment may be selected for eligible products in lieu of an onsite response time. For critical incidents (severity 1 or 2) with covered hardware that cannot be resolved remotely, HP will use commercially reasonable efforts to return the covered hardware to operating condition within the specified call-to-repair time commitment. For non-critical incidents (severity 3 or 4), or at the Customer's request, HP will work with the Customer to schedule an agreed-upon time for the remedial action to commence, and the call-to-repair time commitment will then start at that time. Incident severity levels are defined in 'General provisions'.

Call-to-repair time refers to the period of time that begins when the initial call has been received and acknowledged by HP, as specified in 'General provisions'. Call-to-repair time ends with HP's determination that the hardware is repaired or when the reported event is closed with the explanation that HP has determined it does not currently require onsite intervention.

Call-to-repair times are measured during the coverage window only and may be carried over to the next day for which there exists a coverage window.

Call-to-repair time options available for eligible products are specified in the Service-level options table. Contact a local HP sales office for more information.

Save for any condition, warranty, guarantee, right or remedy the Customer may have at law which cannot be excluded, limited or modified (including a consumer guarantee under the Australian Consumer Law), repair is considered complete upon HP verification that the hardware malfunction has been corrected or that the hardware has been replaced. Repair of hardware may result in loss of data. HP is not liable for any lost data and the Customer is responsible for implementing appropriate backup procedures. Verification by HP may be accomplished by the completion of a power-on self-test, standalone diagnostic or visual verification of proper operation. HP will determine the level of testing necessary to verify that the hardware is repaired. HP may temporarily or permanently replace the product in order to meet the repair time commitment. Replacement products are new or functionally equivalent to new in performance. Goods presented for repair may be replaced by refurbished goods of the same type rather than being repaired. Refurbished parts may be used to repair the goods. Replaced products become the property of HP.

It will take 30 days from the time this service is purchased to set up and perform necessary audits and processes before the hardware call-to-repair time commitment is in effect. During this initial 30-day period and for up to 5 additional business days after the audit is completed, HP will provide a 4-hour onsite response time.

Nothing in this section is intended to exclude or limit any condition, warranty, guarantee, right or remedy the Customer may have at law which cannot be excluded, limited or modified (including a consumer guarantee under the Australian Consumer Law).

Enhanced parts inventory management (included with select, optional call-to-repair time commitments)

To support HP call-to-repair time commitments, an inventory of critical replacement parts is maintained for call-to-repair Customers. This inventory is stored at an HP designated facility. These parts are managed to allow for increased inventory availability and are accessible to HP authorized representatives responding to eligible support requests.

Nothing in this section is intended to exclude or limit any condition, warranty, guarantee, right or remedy the Customer may have at law which cannot be excluded, limited or modified (including a consumer guarantee under the Australian Consumer Law).

Coverage

This service provides coverage for eligible HP- or Compaq-branded hardware products and HP-supported and -supplied internal components such as memory and DVD-ROM drives, as well as attached HP- or Compaq-branded accessories purchased together with the main product, such as mouse, keyboard, docking station and AC power adapter.

For HP point-of-sale (POS) systems and bundled product solutions such as retail solutions, kiosks, or carts, this service covers the base unit as well as attached HP-branded peripherals such as cash drawers, printers, pole displays for monitors, and bar-code readers or handheld scanners that have been sold as part of the POS or bundled product solution.

Coverage for eligible multivendor systems includes all standard vendor-supplied internal components and the external monitor, keyboard, and mouse.

Subject to any warranty, guarantee, right or remedy that cannot be excluded, limited or modified (including a consumer guarantee under the Australian Consumer Law), consumable items including, but not limited to, removable media, customer-replaceable batteries and tablet PC pens, maintenance kits, and other supplies, as well as user maintenance and non-HP devices, are not covered by this service.

For replacement parts and components that are discontinued, an upgrade path may be required. HP will work with the Customer to recommend a replacement. Subject to any warranty, guarantee, right or remedy that cannot be excluded, limited or modified (including a consumer guarantee under the Australian Consumer Law), not all components will have available replacements in all countries due to local support capabilities.

Prerequisites

For hardware onsite response time options, HP strongly recommends that the Customer install and operate the appropriate HP remote support solution, with a secure connection to HP, in order to enable the delivery of the service. For hardware call-to-repair time commitments, HP requires that the Customer install and operate the appropriate HP remote support solution, with a secure connection to HP, in order to enable the delivery of the service. Please contact a local HP representative for further details on requirements, specifications, and exclusions. If the Customer does not deploy the appropriate HP remote support solution, HP may not deliver the services described in this Agreement. However, non-compliance with the obligations does not affect any right or remedy the Customer may have at law (including a consumer guarantee under the Australian Consumer Law). Installation of customer-installable firmware is the responsibility of the Customer and is not included in the service.

For Customers with licenses to firmware-based software products (features implemented in firmware activated by the purchase of a separate software license product) or licensed firmware, the Customer must also have, if available, an active HP Software Support agreement to receive, download, install, and use related firmware updates. HP will provide, install, or assist the Customer with the installation of firmware updates as previously described in this Agreement only if the Customer has the license to use the related software updates for each system, socket, processor, processor core, or end-user software license as allowed by the original HP or original manufacturer software license terms.

Customer responsibilities

If the Customer does not act upon the specified Customer responsibilities, HP or the HP authorized service provider may not deliver the services as described in this Agreement. However, non-compliance with the obligations does not affect any right or remedy the Customer may have at law (including a consumer guarantee under the Australian Consumer Law).

If required by HP, the Customer or HP authorized representative must activate the hardware product to be supported within 10 days of purchase of this service, using the registration instructions within the Care Pack or the email document provided by HP, or as otherwise directed by HP. In the event that a covered product changes location (subject to HP consent), activation and registration (or a proper adjustment to existing HP registration) is to occur within 10 days of the change.

The call-to-repair time commitment is subject to the Customer providing immediate and unrestricted access to the system (including physical, remote troubleshooting and hardware diagnostic assessments), as requested by HP. If the Customer does not provide such access, HP may not comply with the call-to-repair time commitment. If the Customer requests scheduled service, the call-to-repair time period begins at the agreed-upon scheduled time.

For hardware onsite response time options HP strongly recommends and for hardware call-to-repair time commitments the Customer must install the appropriate HP remote support solution, with a secure connection to HP, and provide all necessary resources according to the HP remote support solution release notes, in order to enable the delivery of the service and options. When an HP remote support solution is installed, the Customer must also maintain the contact details configured in the remote support solution that HP will use in responding to a device failure. Please contact a local HP representative for further details on requirements, specifications, and exclusions.

Upon HP request, the Customer will be required to support HP's remote problem resolution efforts. The Customer will:

- Provide all information necessary for HP to deliver timely and professional remote support and to enable HP to determine the level of support eligibility
- Start self-tests and install and run other diagnostic tools and programs
- Install customer-installable firmware updates and patches
- Perform other reasonable activities to help HP identify or resolve problems, as requested by HP

The Customer is responsible for installing, in a timely manner, critical customer-installable firmware updates, as well as Customer Self Repair parts and replacement products delivered to the Customer.

The Customer agrees to pay additional charges if the Customer requests that HP install customer-installable firmware updates or patches. Any additional charges to the Customer will be on a time-and-materials basis, unless otherwise previously agreed in writing by HP and the Customer.

In cases where Customer Self Repair parts or replacement products are shipped to resolve a problem, the Customer is responsible for returning the defective part or product within a time period designated by HP. In the event HP does not receive the defective part or product within the designated time period or if the part or product is degaussed or otherwise physically damaged upon receipt, the Customer will be required to pay the HP list price less any applicable discounts for the defective part or product, as determined by HP. The Customer may have additional rights at law which cannot be excluded, limited or modified (including a consumer guarantee under the Australian Consumer Law).

The Customer is responsible for the security of the Customer's proprietary and confidential information. The Customer is responsible for properly sanitizing or removing data from products that may be replaced and returned to HP as part of the repair process to ensure the safeguarding of the Customer's data. The repair of goods may result in loss of data. For more information on Customer responsibilities, including those outlined in HP's Media Sanitization Policy and Media Handling Policy for Healthcare Customers, go to hp.com/go/mediahandling.

If the Customer chooses to retain repair parts covered under the defective media retention and/or comprehensive defective material retention service feature options, it is the Customer's responsibility to:

- Retain physical control of the covered data retentive components at all times during support delivery by HP; HP is not responsible for data contained on the covered data retentive component
- Ensure that any Customer sensitive data on the retained the covered data retentive component is destroyed or remains secure
- Have an authorized representative present to retain the defective data retentive component, accept the replacement component, provide HP with identification information for each data retentive component retained hereunder, and, upon HP request, execute a document provided by HP acknowledging the retention of the data retentive component
- Destroy the retained data retentive component and/or ensure that it is not put into use again
- Dispose of all retained data retentive components in compliance with applicable environmental laws and regulations

For data retentive components supplied by HP to the Customer as loaner, rental, or lease products, the Customer will promptly return the replacement components at the expiration or termination of support with HP. The Customer will be solely responsible for removing all sensitive data before returning any such loaned, rented, or leased components or products to HP, and HP shall not be responsible for maintaining the confidentiality or privacy of any sensitive data that remains on such components.

For HP Care Pack offerings that include the accidental damage protection optional service feature, you must report accidental damage to HP within thirty days of the incident date so that HP can expedite system repair. The report must have a detailed explanation of the accident, including when, where, and how it occurred, and a description of damage to the unit. HP may deny the claim if this information is not provided, or if the incident is reported more than thirty days after the incident date.

Defective media retention (optional feature)

With the defective media retention service feature option, it is your responsibility to:

- Retain physical control of disks or SSD/flash drives at all times; HP is not responsible for data contained on disks or SSD/flash drives.
- Ensure that any sensitive data on the retained disks or SSD/flash drives is destroyed or remains secure.
- Provide HP with identification information for each disk or SSD/flash drive retained hereunder, and execute a document provided by HP acknowledging your retention of the disks or SSD/flash drives.

One time Battery Replacement service feature (optional feature)

Customers who did not previously register their One Time Battery Service Replacement should note that it is necessary to register the purchase before the battery replacement order can be completed. You will be required to provide "proof of purchase" at the time of the claim. You should be prepared to provide data from the purchase documentation to the Call Centre representative and to fax or mail a copy of the proof of purchase to HP. If you want HP to take care of the battery disposal and destruction of the hazardous battery in compliance to environmental standards and local regulations, please reach out to your HP representative. Additional charges may apply.

Service limitations

Nothing in this Agreement excludes, restricts or modifies any condition, warranty, guarantee, right or remedy you may have at law (including a consumer guarantee under the Australian Consumer Law) which cannot be lawfully excluded or limited.

Service will be provided using a combination of remote diagnosis and support, services delivered onsite, and other service delivery methods. Other service delivery methods may include the delivery, via a courier, of customer-replaceable parts such as a keyboard, a mouse, or if agreed by the Customer, other parts classified by HP as Customer Self Repair parts, or an entire replacement product. The Customer may have additional rights at law which cannot be excluded, limited or modified (including a consumer guarantee under the Australian Consumer Law).

If the Customer agrees to the recommended Customer Self Repair (CSR) and a CSR part is provided to return the system to operating condition, the onsite service level shall not apply. In those cases, HP practice is to express ship Customer Self Repair parts that are critical to the product operation to the Customer location. For more details on the Customer Self Repair process and parts, please refer to hp.com/go/selfrepair

An onsite response time will not apply if the service can be delivered using remote diagnosis, remote support, or other service delivery methods described above.

For HP point-of-sale (POS) systems and bundled product solutions such as retail solutions, kiosks, or carts, service may be provided onsite for the base unit only. Service for attached peripherals will be provided by shipping replacement parts or entire replacement products for Customer Self Repair or installation by the technical courier delivering the part or product. The Customer may have additional rights at law which cannot be excluded, limited or modified (including a consumer guarantee under the Australian Consumer Law).

The following activities or situations will suspend the call-to-repair time calculation (if applicable) until they are completed or resolved:

- Any Customer or third party actions or inaction impacting the repair process
- Any automated or manual recovery processes triggered by the hardware malfunction, such as disk mechanism rebuild, sparing procedures, or data integrity protection measures
- Any other activities not specific to the hardware repair but required to verify that the hardware malfunction has been corrected, such as rebooting the operating system

Call-to-repair time commitments and onsite response times do not apply to the repair or replacement of defective or depleted batteries for selected enterprise storage arrays and enterprise tape products.

A call-to-repair time commitment does not apply when the Customer chooses to have HP prolong diagnosis rather than execute recommended recovery procedures.

If the Customer requests scheduled service, the call-to-repair time period begins at the agreed-upon scheduled time.

The purpose of this PDS is to give You information You may require to make an informed decision about whether to obtain the benefit of the AD Coverage. Some of the words and phrases frequently used in this PDS and the Notice from HP (see below) have special meanings. Their meanings are explained in the section headed "Definitions" of this PDS.

How the Accidental Damage insurance cover works

The AD Coverage is issued/insured by:

AIG Australia Limited
ABN 93 004 727 753 AFSL 381686
Level 12, 717 Bourke Street, Docklands VIC 3008

We issue/insure the AD Coverage pursuant to an Australian Financial Services Licence granted to Us by the Australian Securities and Investments Commission. We prepared this Product Disclosure Statement.

NOTICE FROM HP

For the purposes of the Accidental Damage cover (AD Coverage), HP PPS Australia Pty Ltd (“HP”) is a group purchasing body and has arranged this AD Coverage through a group insurance policy (Master Policy) issued to HP by AIG Australia Limited (AIG). General factual information about the AD Coverage is set out in the Accidental Damage Product Disclosure Statement (PDS). Please read this information carefully. Should you require it, HP will provide you with a printed copy of this notice free of charge (contact details on page 6).

HP is not the issuer of the AD Coverage and does not guarantee any benefits under the Master Policy. AIG reimburses HP for any administrative costs necessarily incurred by HP to ensure AD Coverage is issued to you. You, however, are a beneficiary under the Master Policy. This means that, your claim for accidental damage (AD Claim) will be covered and paid by AIG. AIG has appointed HP to handle any AD Claims.

HP is not authorised to provide any financial advice in respect of the AD Coverage and does not hold an Australian Financial Services Licence. You may consider obtaining Your own financial product advice about AD Coverage from a person who is able to give such advice under an Australian Financial Services Licence.

If the Master Policy is terminated, AIG will continue to meet claims for the AD Coverage specified in the PDS and Terms provided that You have accepted Your AD Coverage prior to termination of the Master Policy and Your AD Claim is made within the duration of Your AD Coverage.

HP will give You prior written notice if the Master Policy ends but does not need to notify You if substantially similar cover applies or will apply for such period (or remainder of such period). If You are not provided with such notice, HP is liable to compensate You for any loss or damage You may suffer as a result of HP’s failure to notify You. You can verify the status of Your AD Coverage by contacting HP (contact details on page 6).
