Instructions and worksheet for HP Custom Signatures:

For check writing, use your check as a template for the correct signature size. The typical size is  $\frac{3}{4}$  inches high by 2  $\frac{3}{4}$  inches wide. Bitmapped custom signatures will print exactly as the size submitted.

1. Sign both signature boxes below. We will scan both samples to determine which sample produces the best final image. Use a black medium point pen and sign exactly as you want your signature(s) to appear.
  - Signature should not touch the box lines.
  - Make sure the signatures are solid with no skips or broken lines.
  - For dual signatures that do not fit in the box, please sign both names exactly as you want them to appear on white paper.
2. Print the signature name(s).
3. If you are currently using an HP Custom Font device, please provide the following documents:

Signature example

A large, empty rectangular box intended for a signature example.

- a. Example of how the check currently prints (mark void across the check).
- b. Example of check printed on the same printer without the Font device installed.
This allows us to verify the signature placement and special character to call the signature.
- c. PCL font list from current HP printer. The PCL font list is available through the printer configuration panel or embedded web server.
